'Bridge To Kyoto' Draws Big Fourth Of July Crowd

Thousands of visitors crossed the "Bridge of Kyoto" at the Marin Art and Garden Fair in Ross today as the paid gate promised to approach 20,000 for the fair's first three days.

Yesterday an official count of 8,464 was swelled by hundreds of volunteers and thousands of delighted children under 12 who attended the fair free of charge with their parents.

The paid gate yesterday far exceeded last year's crowd on July 4 of about 5,100, but fell short of the one-day record of 8,946 set on July 4, 1965. That was the "Summertime 1900" fair that set the total paid attendance record of 30,102.

A constant flow of shuttle buses from parking lots in San Anselmo and Kentfield enables visitors to reach the fair without serious traffic difficulties. The buses are operating from 9:30 a.m. until the fair closes.

The pickup points are the main College of Marin lot on College Avenue, Kentfield; the Greyhound Bus Depot on Center Boulevard, San Anselmo, and the lot at San Anselmo Avenue and Belle Avenue, San Anselmo.

The Japanese theme of this year's fair will be highlighted again today by a Japanese stage show by Michiya Hanayagi and Company at 8:30 p.m. An hour earlier the amphitheater will hum with square dancing by the Marin Square Dance Association.

In addition, of course, are the dozens of beautiful garden exhibits that are the enduring and unique feature of the annual festival.

Bagley Blasts Span Bill Senate Tactic

'Breach Of Mores' Charged

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

SACRAMENTO — Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District directors were charged today with fomenting "a gross breach of mores of the Senate" by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

His angry charge came today after he learned that the bridge district's protector, Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, yesterday had yanked a Bagley bill out of a friendly committee in a move to send it to his own transportation committee for execution.

QUIET STRATEGY

Collier, without any advance notice to anyone, arose in an almost empty Senate chamber and asked for unanimous consent to re-refer the bill (AB 855) from the local government to the rules committee, where he could have it referred to his committee.

Without any objection, as is normal in 99 per cent of such requests, the chair, occupied by Lt. Gov. Robert H. Finch, allowed the bill referred to rules.

ACTION REVERSED

Other senators, upset by Collier's tactic, moved this morning to rescind yesterday's action. The motion was referred to the rules committee, which held a special meeting on it late this morning.

The rules committee, after a half-hour closed meeting, voted to re-refer Bagley's bill to the local government committee, thus overruling Collier's action.

The successful motion to overrule Collier was made by Sen.

STERLING'S OFFICE HIT

Key Files Prowled In Stanford Blaze

STANFORD (AP) — Fire destroyed Stanford University President Wallace Sterlings' office early today, causing $200,000 damage in a two story administration building.

Santa Clara County fire marshal Bruce Wiggins said the fire apparently was set deliberately.

Faculty personnel files and records of the Stanford Research Institute were disturbed, authorities said.

Flames, discovered by campus policeman Ralph Pitsley, at 5 a.m. shot 15 feet above the roof and a column of smoke rose 100 feet.

Lost in the fire were President Sterling's personal rare book and memento collection gathered over 40 years.

A University spokesmen said a green bag was found by the door at the rear of the building. It contained the University's file on Stanford Research Institute.

He said the relationship between the university and the institute had been criticized frequently by political activists.

Faculty personnel records from an office adjoining Sterling's had been pulled out and partially burned. Files in other offices were opened.

Fire Marshal Wiggins said that due to heat and smoke damage, the entire interior of the building on the inner quadrangle could be "considered destroyed."

There was a "strong smell of gasoline" throughout the building, he said.

A number of paintings were lost, including several of the Leland Stanford family.

Arsonists were blamed for the May 7 fire that destroyed the Naval ROTC building during the first night of a sit-in at the Stanford Student Services building. Loss was estimated at $80,000.

Sterling retires as Stanford president on Sept. 1.

Ex-Vietnam Commander's Kin Killed

COMBINED AP & UPI

SAIGON — The Vietnam War has taken the life of the brother-in-law of the former U.S. commander of U.S. troops in South Vietnam.

The death of Lt. Col. Frederick Van Deusen, brother-in-law of the newly sworn-in U.S. Army Chief of Staff Gen. William C. Westmoreland was announced today while it was told U.S. B52s struck North Vietnam's southern panhandle yesterday for the fifth straight day.

Van Deusen, 37, was shot down just a few hours after Westmoreland was sworn in Wednesday as chief of staff in Washington. Westmoreland had commanded U.S. forces in Vietnam the last four years.

Van Deusen was the brother of Westmoreland's wife, Katherine. He leaves a widow and three children in Fayetteville, N.C.

TRAFFIC SLOWS TRUCK

Ross Home Lost; Dog Dies In Fire

Fire demolished a Ross home last night before firemen could fight through dense Fourth of July traffic to the scene.

Sirens sent motorists onto sidewalks on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard as one engine and 12 firemen fought Marin Art and Garden Fair traffic to reach the blazing home of James A. Lill on Lagunitas Road near Walnut Avenue.

Firemen said flames raced through the wooden structure shortly after 9 p.m. The fire was visible throughout the Ross Valley. It took 20 minutes to control the blaze, firemen said, but not before it completely gutted the home and destroyed its contents.

Firemen said Lill and his wife returned to the scene too late to salvage anything. They are reported staying with friends.

In their search of the rubble, firemen found the charred body of the family's dog. No one was aware that the animal was trapped inside, they said.

Asst. Fire Chief Charles Pinza said the house could not have been saved regardless of traffic conditions. He said several cars momentarily blocked the engine's right turn onto Lagunitas Road from the fire station on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, across from the art fair.

Pinza said the cause of the blaze is under investigation. He could give no damage estimate this morning.

Marinites Enjoy The Fireworks

Thousands of Marinites turned out last night to enjoy the traditional Fourth of July fireworks — both legal and illegal.

The legal displays, carefully controlled by pyrotechnic engineers, with firemen standing by, were held in Corte Madera in the town park and off Sausalito's shore aboard a barge.

Sausalito police estimated that more than 2,500 persons lined up along the waterfront to watch the 40-minute show. Frequent applause greeted the spectacular aerial show.

Hundreds more jammed hillside viewing spots and more than two dozen boats surrounded the fireworks barge.

In Corte Madera and Larkspur, more than 5,000 persons watched what one specator called the "most oustanding" parade in the area's history, then moved to the recreation center for a spaghetti feed and the fireworks show.

A small ground display, which also attracted several hundred outsiders, was held by the Gallinas Village Improvement Association at Pueblo Park. There was some confusion in the neighhood because the display was to have been held in Adrian-Rosal Park, a block away, but it was shifted because an association picnic was being held in Pueblo Park.

Illegal fireworks were known to have started at least three of the 12 grass fires that plagued firemen yesterday throughout the county. Two were in Tamalpais Valley, on Greenhill Road and Cardinal Court, and one was at Paradise Cay. All were minor.

The sheriff's office reported 65 telephone complaints, mostly about noise of exploding firecrackers, but deputies said it was one of the most peaceful Fourth of Julys in recent memory.

80 Injured When Bridge Collapses

LONGVIEW, Wash. (UPI)—An old wooden foot bridge over Lake Sacajawea collapsed last night, throwing 100 persons into shallow water 15 feet below.

Eighty were treated at two local hospitals for minor injuries suffered in the mishap, which occurred as a large crowd left an Independence Day fireworks display at Lake Sacajawea State Park.

Hospital spokesmen said all but seven of those admitted were treated and released. None of those held overnight was injured seriously.

Most of the injured were young people, who quickly scrambled from the lake after their fall.

Paul Morris, Longview, said he was waiting to cross the six foot wide bridge, which was "about half a city block long," when it started sagging in the middle.

"There was a roaring, cracking noise," he said, "and the bridge started falling, slowly at first, throwing people together as it went down."

Morris said the structure spanned a narrow section of the lake and was about 15 feet above the water, which he estimated to be about five feet deep.

Police Trace Past Of Central Park Sniper

NEW YORK (AP) — A blurred picture emerged today of the Central Park sniper as a nervous, secretive man with a quick temper who apparently stole a gun from a friend and used it to kill one person and wound three others in a wild shooting spree Wednesday.

Police said yesterday that the .45-caliber Smith and Wesson 1917 Army-type revolver which the sniper used before he was shot down by police belonged to Kiril Dimitroz of Jackson, N.J.

Dimitroz, like the sniper, Angelo Angelof, was from Bulgaria. He told police Angelof had visited him about 10 days ago, but said he was not aware the revolver was missing until investigators told him.

The New Jersey man said, however, that he was not really friendly with Angelof, but with the latter's roomate, a man identified by police sources as Kyril Dikov, about 45. Dikov was in St. John's Hospital in Wueens, where he was being treated for hand injuries suffered in an industrial accident.

Dikov reportedly met Angelof at Rova Farms in Freehold, N. J., where the latter was a diswasher. The diswasher job was one of the earliest Angelof held after his arrival in this country, on a Greek passport, in 1966. More recently he worked for a Queens book and magazine distributor, earning about $70 a week until he walked off the job Tuesday.

Dikov and other friends of Angelof said the sniper was usually a quiet man, but would suddenly become moody. One friend said Angllof had recently come into a large sum of money as the result of a lawsuit, the details of which were not known.

Police said Angelof waylaid Lilah Kistler, 24, in a Central Park restroom and after shooting her to death climbed to the roof of the building. During a gun duel with police, he shot Charles Bach, 80, and seriously wounded him. Two policemen suffered minor injuries.

In announcing they had traced the gun, police said they had been aided in their work by the fact that both New York and New Jersey have strict gun registration laws.

Police said the gun was part of a 1919 shipment from the Smith and Wesson factory in Springfield, Mass., to a dealer in the East. They said the gun at one time was in the possession of a sporting goods store in Manhattan and in 1960 was sold to a dealer in Toms River, N. J. Later, they said, the weapon found its way to Gerry Grown's gun store in Lakehurst, N. J., where Demitroz bought it.

Disbelief Of Pogrom Told By Kiesinger

BONN, Germany (AP) — West German Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger says he felt "something not quite right" was happening to the Jews in Nazi Germany near the end of World War II.

"But it was not until after the war that I got to know about the whole magnitude of this operation," the former deputy head of the radio propaganda department in the Third Reich Foreign Ministry told a war crimes trial judge yesterday.

Kiesinger said at first he had discounted allied charges about Nazi mass extermination of Jews as "nothing but atrocity propaganda."

"It was simply inconceivable to me that such terrible things were happening," he said.

Kiesinger was summoned as a witness in the trial of two Third Reich diplomats, Adolf Beckerle and Fritz Gebhard von Hahn. It was the first time a West German government chief had appeared before a trial court, and the court came specially from Frankfurt to take his testimony.

Beckerle, Hitler's onetime ambassador to Bulgaria, is charged with the deportation and assistance in the murder of 11,343 Jews. Von Hahn, his former assistant, is accused of complicity.

Kiesinger was called to testify whether Hitler's diplomats could be expected to know what was happening to the Jews.

ATTORNEY SESSION

Insanity Plea In King Slaying?

LONDON (AP) — Alabama lawyer Arthur J. Hanes spent about an hour today in Wandsworth Prison, conferring with James Earl Ray, the man wanted in Tennessee to stand trial for the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

When he came out of the jail gate, Hanes said: "He is feeling all right. His health is good. He is being well looked after. His mental attitude is good. We talked of many things."

Hanes, who said on arrival at London Airport earlier today that Ray might plead innocent through reason of insanity, was asked by a reporter if Ray showed any sign of insanity.

"None," he replied and emphasized that the plea of insanity was only one of a number which might be used.

Hanes, former mayor of Birmingham, still insisted on calling Ray by the name under which he was arrested in Britain—Ramon George Sneyd—although the British court has accepted FBI testimony that he is Ray.

"This man to me is still R.G. Sneyd," Hanes said.

In the eyes of the British government, Hanes was only a private party and not a legal adviser in an official capacity. Home Secretary Jeames Callaghan, referring to Hanes, said he "did not qualify for the special conditions applicable to legal advisers under the statutory prison rules."

Hanes had been in London in late June, but did not see Ray then, although he reportedly asked permission of British authorities. Callaghan said Ray had asked to receive a visitor June 24 and was given the go-ahead June 25 on the condition that he be an "ordinary visitor."

Before entering the prison, Hanes repeatedly stressed Ray's identity as Sneyd. He said: "He is Ramon George Sneyd as far as I am concerned. This man has identified himself as such. I am saying that the U.S. government and the authorities of Tennessee have the burden to prove otherwise."

Before driving back to his hotel, Hanes said he would have another meeting with Ray tomorrow morning. He was accompanied on the jail visit by Michael Eugene, one of the court-appointed British attorneys aiding in Ray's defense.

By decision of a British court last Tuesday Ray can be extradited as a fugitive criminal wanted for murder and armed robbery. But his defense lawyers have 15 days to lodge an appeal in a higher court, which would further delay him being handed over to the American authorities.

15,000 Sing, Dance, Talk At Militant Rally

BERKELEY (UPI) — A festive crowd of nearly 15,000 persons danced, sang, made political speeches and performed impromptu plays yesterday on a street where less than a week ago many of them battled police in clouds of tear gas.

The Independence Day rally was held on Telegraph Avenue near the University of California with the blessings of the city council, but only after two days of stormy debate between Berkeley officials and young radical activists.

ALLOWS RALLY

The city council, which first refused to allow the busy street to be blocked, later reversed itself after noisy demonstrators threatened to hold the event with or without permission.

The rally climaxed nearly a week of diminishing violence which erupted one week ago, when police sed clubs and tear gas on the same street to break up an unauthorized rally supporting student strikers in France.

In the three nights that followed, police clashed with the demonstrators who set up barricades and threw rocks, bottles and flaming sticks.

EARLIER CURFEW

Dusk-to-dawn curfew quieted most of the community of 123,000 Sunday and Monday nights, but not until 134 persons were arrested and 45 injured.

The young leftists, buoyed by a bright Independence Day sun and what they termed a victory before the city council, set up tables along Telegraph Avenue.

They sought support for some Socialist and anarchist organizations, a recall of Gov. Ronald Reagan and the freeing of a Black Panther leader accused of killing a policeman.

The crowd that jammed the area was entertained by rock bands, the San Francisco Mime Troupe, a multitude of guitar players and hippie artists, who drew colored chalk designs on the sidewalk.

'POT' SMOKE

The distinct fragrance of marijuana could be sniffed occasionally, but it was not particularly prevalent. A dance featuring a nude man and a clothed girl attracted considerable attention.

Police remained out of sight, and traffic was directed by "monitors," including several clergymen with whistles.

The rally ended at 10 p.m. and most of the crowd dispersed—but a few of the celebrants remained.

"They are sweeping the streets," said a police spokesman. "There were no incidents."

Trestle To Come Down On Tuesday

The main section of the old railroad trestle in Tiburon will come down Tuesday, according to Russell L. Melquist, assistant to City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose.

Workmen will start removing the main steel girder about 5 a.m. and traffic will be closed on Tiburon Boulevard at Trestle Glen for about 20 minutes, Melquist announced yesterday. He said the alternate route of Trestle Glen Boulevard to Paradise Drive will be open for motorists.

Southern Pacific Railroad announced last week that demolition of the trestle, built in the mid-1880s, and filling of two nearby tunnels will take about a month.

Firecrackers Blamed In Fillmore Blaze

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Fire investigators say a three-alarm fire which destroyed two apartment houses in the Fillmore district at a loss of $40,000 was probably caused by boys playing with firecrackers.

No one was injured in the Independence Day blaze, but three families—one with five children—were forced to flee. They received emergency aid from the Red Cross.

Judge 'Merit Plan' Issue To Bagley

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — The "merit plan" for selection of judges — one of Gov. Ronald Reagan's campaign promises — has been referred to the Assembly Judiciary Committee, chaired by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

Bagley promised his committee will give the bill "a full and fair hearing," adding that the committee "has an open mind on this legislation.

"I should hope that no legislator would vote for or against this program simply because it is 'the governor's program,' " said Bagley. "Restructuring California's judicial institutions is of such importance that it far transcends even the thought of partisanship."

The bill was freed from a Senate blockade standing since 1967 when the upper house voted 27-10 Tuesday to send it to the Assembly.

The bill would set up commissions of two laymen, two attorneys and two judges to nominate candidates for court vacancies. The governor would appoint one of the nominees instead of naming whomever he chooses, which is the present system.

Critics of the "merit plan" assert it simply will increase the power of the heirarchy of the California Bar Association.

Women Vote But It May Be Last

VADUZ, Liechtenstein (AP) — The women of Liechtenstein voted yesterday for the first time in history. It might also be the last time.

In an unprecedented advisory vote on female suffrage, the women were only 1,265 to 1,241 favor and the total vote came out 2,582 to 2,152 against them voting in regular elections.

The vote was held in 11 communities of the 62-square-mile principality to guide Parliament when it debates the question of women's voting rights later this year.

Gate Span Supporter Loses On Bill Tactic

John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, a longtime critic of the bridge board.

The bill, which would require the bridge district to seek competitive billing on all work over $5,000, has been approved 69-0 by the Assembly, and was sent to the local government committee when it reached the Senate Rules Committee, which determines which bill goes to which committee.

Such a bill generally would have gone to Collier's transportation committee, but Collier's long-standing friendship with the northern county directors on the bridge board probably would have meant the bill's death in his committee.

"The Senate," Bagley told the Independent-Journal, "as all legislative bodies, has a set of mores, and one of them is that a bill may be transferred from one committee to another only with the agreement of both chairmen."

In this instance, he noted, the chairman of the local government committee, Sen. John G. Schmitz, R-Tustin, is out of the state for two weeks on military reserve duty.

Collier's breach of this more, said Bagley, "obviously is simply the bidding of the bridge board.

"If the board is successful," promised Bagley, "in forestalling a little progress by stopping AB 855, then they have just nailed the final nail into their coffin, because next year, and I'm serious, if they stop a bill that was calculated to give them a chance to solve problems, then it's obvious they don't want a chance to solve problems — which means we'll start on the first of next January to get rid of them once and for all."

Bagley said that Collier's move was in response to several major amendments Bagley planned to make Monday when the bill was scheduled to be heard by the local government committee.

The amendments would require that half of the directors from San Francisco, Marin and Sonoma be either city councilmen or supervisors.

At the same time, the amendments would add four directors, two from San Francisco and two from Marin. Thus, the enlarged board would have nine directors from San Francisco, four from Marin, two from Sonoma, and one each from Mendocino, Napa and Del Norte counties.

With elected officials as directors, said Bagley, the bridge board "would be responsible and aware of public sentiment. For example, no elected board that I know of would ever think of voting itself $200,000 of accidental death insurance," said Bagley of the board's approval last winter of the insurance — without competitive bidding.

Publicity about the action in the Independent-Journal caused the board to rescind its approval of the new insurance, which was a doubling of the $100,000 policies carried for several years.

Bagley's amendments also include an annual audit of the district's books, competitive bidding on all purchases, and adds a provision that the directors appointed by the boards of supervisors in the six-county district serve at the pleasure of the supervisors, rather than the present four-year appointments.

Bagley said he also would add an amendment to authorize the district to establish and operate any modes of transit between Marin and San Francisco. Collier has a bill that would do the same thing.

Bagley also said his amendments would specifically authorize a system of one-way tolls, so motorists would pay when crossing only in one direction. Advocates of this plan say it would speed traffic.

The amendments would "eliminate the present unresponsive private fiefdom which has lost all public confidence and thus has stifled progress," said Bagley.

Collier's move yesterday was in response to news of Bagley's proposed amendments. Bagley said he told the bridge district's lobbyist, Gordon Garland, about the amendments on Wednesday.

"This teaches us another lesson," said Bagley. "Never be honest when you're dealing with the bridge board."

Bullets Fly; Chicago Jail Break Fails

CHICAGO (AP)—Authorities wounded one inmate and rounded up four others early today in a bold escape attempt at the Cook County Jail.

The prisoners, disguised as jail guards and carrying one shotgun, all were recaptured before they could scale two fences which surround the jail yard.

The area around the jail on Chicago's West Side resembled a battlefield in the predawn darkness as jail guards, sheriff's deputies and Chicago police kept up a steady gunfire.

In the confusion, authorities thought a large scale escape attempt was in progress, police said later. Many shots were fired at the jail walls after the five prisoners had been captured.

One prisoner overpowered a guard and took his shotgun prior to the escape attempt. The prisoner fired the shotgun at a guard from the wall, before the prisoner was cut down.

Police said nervous guards and policemen fired at what they thought were escaping prisoners running in the moonlight. Police said that at one point policemen were shooting at each other, but none was hit.

Finally, Sheriff Joseph I. Woods ordered all shooting stopped. A headcount was then made of the tiers, and all prisoners were accounted for, including the five who had been captured.

Surfboard Stolen

Richard V. Bettini of 242 Locust Avenue, San Rafael, reported the theft of his surfboard from his carport sometime Wednesday, police said today.

LBJ Hosts Bolivian, Gets Ready For Trip

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—President Johnson swung into last minute preparations for his weekend summit conference in Central America today and put on a ranch style luncheon for President Rene Barrientos of Bolivia.

Before the arrival of the Bolivian leader at the LBJ Ranch, Johnson paused to sign the $4.1 billion authorization bill for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA). The figure was $357 million below the administration request.

He also cleared his desk of a number of official documents and pending appointments.

The Texas White House announced that Johnson intends to reappoint Howard Jenkins Jr. as a member of the National Labor Relations Board for a five-year term. Jenkins, 53, became a member of the NLRB in 1963. He is a Republican.

He also tapped Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland to be a member of the advisory commission on inter-governmental relations. He succeeds Gov. James Rhodes of Ohio as one of the two Republican members on the 20-man commission.

Barrientos, who trained as a fighter pilot at Randolph Air Force Base here in 1952, was in Texas for "Bolivian Day" at HemisFair tomorrow.

There was no formal agenda for Johnson's stag luncheon with Barrientos but they were expected to review Bolivian progress and economic development, officials said. Members of his official party were invited along with Ambassador Edward Clark, the U.S. executive director on the Inter American Bank.

The President had sessions most of the day with White House adviser Walt Rostow and his Latin American specialist, William Bowdler, on his forthcoming trip to El Salvador.

The 5,900-mile three-day trip begins at 7 a.m. CDT (5 a.m. PDT) tomorrow when he flies to San Salvador to cap the final meeting of the Central American Common Market. Going along with him are his wife Lady Bird and daughter Luci Nugent, 21.

fire during an infantry sweep in the northern part of the delta. It crashed into the Vai Co River, 18 miles southwest of Saigon.

Three survived the crash. Van Deusen and two others have been confirmed dead and four are missing and presumed dead.

In the war itself crewmen of B52s, reported that the Communists tried vainly yesterday to stop their planes with missile fire.

A spokesman said crewmen aboard the eight-engine Strategic Air Command bombers saw at least two surface to air missiles SAMS fired at them. Both missed.

It was the first time in two months the North Vietnamese had got a shot at the high-flying B52s. Five of the jets have crashed due to accidents in Vietnam but none has been lost in combat despite repeated Hanoi boasts.

Because of the danger of missiles, the B52s have rarely—until this week—ventured into North Vietnam. But U.S. spokesmen revealed that since Sunday the huge bombers have pounded North Vietnamese territory 27 times—11 times inside the border of the Demilitarized Zone and 16 times above.

In four strikes yesterday, the B52s bombed artillery sites, weapons positions and suspected North Vietnamese Army troop concentrations, spokesmen said.

American intelligence sources said that since U.S. bombing was limited to the Panhandle April 1, the North Vietnamese have increased both the number of troops and gun batteries just above the DMZ.

Just below the DMZ, the ground war raged.

About 100 North Vietnamese troops at dawn yesterday charged out of dense jungle and at U.S. Marines 12 miles below the DMZ and three miles southeast of Khe Sanh, the Leatherneck fort being abandoned.

The Marines, numbering about 200, drove the attackers back. They killed at least 17 North Vietnamese. Four Marines were killed and 13 wounded.

The battle lasted 40 minutes. It erupted where the Marines were guarding Highway 9, the only open road from allied coastal bastions to Khe Sanh.

Pair Sentenced On Check Passing

A Long Beach man and his wife were given jail terms today in Marin Superior Court for passing a worthless $145 check in Sausalito on July 4, 1967.

Joe Henderson, 34, was given a year in County Jail and placed on two years' probation. His wife, Bonita, 24, was given 15 days in jail, but the sentence was suspended and she was placed on a years' probation.

The pair had pleaded guilty to cashing the check at Hanna Leather Co. Henderson has served time in a federal penitentiary for taking a stolen car across a state line.

Auto Stolen

Mrs. Jean C. Faskett, of San Francisco, reported to sheriff's deputies yesterday that her 1966 gold Mustang was taken from behind 1681 Tiburon Boulevard between 9 and 10 p.m.

Girl Reports Attack In Car

A 16-year-old Mill Valley girl told sheriff's officers yesterday she was raped by one of two men after she hitchhiked a ride in their car to Sausalito.

The girl told deputies she was thumbing a ride about 2:15 p.m. yesterday on Miller Avenue in Mill Valley when the men gave her a lift. Instead of taking her directly to Sausalito, her destination, she said, they pretended to seek a friend's residence on Tennessee Valley Road.

One remained in the driver's seat while his companion raped her in the rear seat, she reported. The pair, described as in their 20s, then released her in Sausalito, she said. She notified police there, was taken to Marin General Hospital for an exination and released, officer said.

Cycle Rider Injured In Chain Wreck

A 17-year-old girl riding on a motorcycle was hospitalized yesterday with injuries sustained in a three-vehicle accident on Magnolia Avenue, Larkspur, that endangered scores of persons gathered to see the July 4 Larkspur-Corte Madera parade.

Cynthia Jackson, 17, was reported in good condition today at Marin General Hospital with a bruised hip and multiple scrapes. She was thrown from a motorcycle on which she was a passenger when it collided with a vehicle thrown out of the driver's control by collision with a third vehicle.

The accident occurred at 2:05 p.m., about 25 minutes before the parade, which started at the Value World parking lot at 3 p.m., was to pass Larkspur-Corte Madera School, scene of the accident.

Larkspur police said that an auto driven by Cecil A. Howard, 60, of 80 Marina Vista Avenue, Larkspur, pulled out of Wilshire Avenue into Magnolia Avenue and struck the left rear fender of a northbound auto driven by Mrs. Elizabeth Richmond, 46, of 127 Glen Drive, Sausalito.

Mrs. Richmond lost control of her auto, police said, and it veered into the southbound lane, directly into the path of the motorcycle, driven by Richard R. Argento, 21, of 133 Live Oak Avenue, Fairfax. Only Miss Jackson, Argento's passenger, was reported injured by the collisions.

Investigating officers said that many parade-watchers would have been injured had Mrs. Richmond been driving excessively fast when her car was struck.

Two Injured In Skidding Accident

Two persons suffered minor injuries yesterday when leaking oil caused a tire on their motorcycle to skid out of control on the Corte Madera Avenue grade from Mill Valley.

The accident occurred at 3:36 p.m. The driver, Keith Goldsmith, 24, of Palo Alto, and passenger Barbara Bayne, 18, of Redwood City, were both thrown from the cycle.

Both were treated at Marin General Hospital, Goldsmith for scrapes of both knees and back pain and Miss Bayne for an injured right arm.

Firebombs Follow Fireworks Display

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Three firebombings were reported and scores of windows were broken by more than 100 youths—most of them Negroes—on the Minneapolis South Side last night.

The trouble started about 10:30 p.m. after a Fourth of July fireworks display at a city park. One hour after the initial outbreak, police set up a command post near the trouble area.

The firebombing occurred as the crowd split in two directions, tying up traffic for several blocks.

Glass littered the streets in the areas as some of the youths in the crowd swung boards at the headlights and windows of the cars.

Windows in a number of houses in the area were broken. Police said that just about every window in one block were broken.

One of the firebombs landed atop a one-story building adjoining an American Legion post. Firemen extinguished the blaze and damage appeared minor.

Another firebomb was thrown under a car and a third exploded on a lawn.

Police arrested a 15-year-old youth and reportedly confiscated some firebombs.

A spokesman at General Hospital said 13 persons were treated for minor injuries.

Shower Cools Unrest In New Jersey City

PATERSON, N.J. (AP) — A third night of disorders subsided following a short rain today after rock-throwing and window-smashing spread outside the Puerto Rican section.

Police reported that 24 persons, all adults, had been arrested last night and today, bringing the total for the three days to 51. They were charged with varied counts of resisting arrest, malicious mischief and loitering.

Three Paterson hospitals reported treating about three dozen injured persons. Many of the injured, however, did not report to hospitals. Some 20 persons were injured, including several policemen, in the previous nights of violence.

Helmeted police displayed shotguns in a show of strength, but no shooting was reported last night. There had been one report of shooting by police early yesterday to discourage youths throwing missiles from rooftops.

Police used tear gas to break up large crowds. "The tear gas is very effective," Deputy Police Chief Angelo Esposito said.

Broken glass, bottles, bricks and rocks littered the streets of the Puerto Rican section just east of the downtown area of this industrial city. Many cars parked on the streets were heavily damaged.

Mayor Lawrence F. Kramer directed police operations from police headquarters. He toured the troubled area today and then went home at about 2:30 a.m.

Before the rain, police reported that the disorders, including the first reports of looting in three days, had spread to areas bordering the Puerto Rican section.

As on previous nights, youths stoned cars, including police vehicles.

Ross Valley Sewer Budget

Ross Valley Sanitary District directors Wednesday night adopted a $221,603 budget for fiscal 1968-69, reported District Mgr. Ralph C. Noah.

The new budget will require a 17-cent property tax rate per $100 assessed valuation, he said, compared with the 11-cent rate for the past fiscal year.

The past budget totaled about $156,000, he said.

The new budget includes $157,238 for operating expenses, $30,000 for a new program to cut down on infiltration of drain water into sewage lines, and $34,365 for a new line along Corte Madera Creek in conjunction with the flood control project.

The budget also provides for a 5 per cent pay hike for the district's 10 employees.

The budget will require $170,603 in property taxes, up from last fiscal year's $163,182. The differences is financed from various fees.

Directors will set the tax rate at their next meeting at 8 p.m. Aug. 7 in the district office, 11 Library Place, San Anselmo.

Bridge Directors To Weigh Bills Affecting District

Legislation affecting the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District will be considered by district directors in a joint meeting of their legislation and insurance committees at 10 a.m. Thursday in the administration building at the toll plaza.

Bills now before the Legislature would affect the district in a variety of ways, from increasing its powers to completely eliminating the district.

Directors will meet as a "committee of the whole" at 10 a.m. July 12 to review a proposed $58,500 expenditure for publicity in the district's 1968-69 budget. Several directors have objected to the annual expenditure.

The regular meeting of the full board will follow the committee meeting at 10:30 a.m.

East Bay Man Pulled Off Span

A 33-year-old Lafayette man was sent to Napa State Hospital for observation yesterday after California Highway Patrol officers took him off the Petaluma River bridge because they feared he was unsafe to himself and others.

Officer Richard A. Harkness reported that James Dickow parked his car near the bridge on Highway 37 and started walking across the road. When the patrol arrived at 9:35 p.m., Dickow, barefoot with a torn shirt, was struggling with several other persons on the bridge, Harkness reported.

Dickow told the officer he had an argument with his family and "just wanted to leave."

Diver Finds Girl's Body

YOSEMITE (AP) — A scuba diver yesterday recovered the body of a 7-year-old girl swept over 317 foot Vernal Falls in Yosemite National Park June 21.

The body of Roberta Mary Hurd had been discovered earlier in the day in a pool below the falls.

Roberta, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cooper of Jackson, had been playing above falls when she fell and was washed over.

Canon Explodes Killing A Teener

SCAPPOOSE, Ore. (UPI)—A boy bled to death early today after a homemade cannon he constructed from steel pipe exploded and showered him with shrapnel.

Police said Bill Templin Jr., 15, was dead on arrival at a St. Helen's hospital from loss of blood. A companion, Stephen Douglas Johnson, also 15, of Scappoose, suffered a leg injury but was able to crawl from the gravel pit where the youths had their homemade cannon and go to a nearby residence for help.

The Templin youth bled to death before help arrived, however, officials said.

AT KING RITES

'Shoot Them Down' Order By Maddox

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Gov. Lester Maddox ordered state troopers during the funeral march for Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. to "shoot them down and stack them up," if marchers attempted to enter Georgia's capitol building, according to a just-published biography of Maddox.

The book is entitled "The Riddle of Lester Maddox." It was written by Bruce Galphin, an editorial associate for the Atlanta Constitution, and published by Camelot Publishing Co. of Atlanta.

According to the book, Maddox issued the order to approximately 200 armed troopers and other law enforcement officers who patrolled the capitol grounds and corridors during the massive march of mourning.

The estimated 200,000 marchers passed directly in front of the capitol, which Maddox had refused to close.

Maddox, questioned about the published report, acknowledged that he issued an order to prevent marchers from entering the capitol and said he "could have" used the language attributed to him in the book.

The governor said he had received information that an attempt would be made to storm the capitol building during the march, and that he had given the order as a precaution.

Maddox denied, however, that he threatened to bring state forces into Atlanta to protect his Pickrick furniture store against a possible fire bomb attack after the murder of King.

Galphin says in his book that Maddox told Atlanta Mayor Ivan Allen Jr. the store had been threatened and if the city did not provide protection state forces would "stack 'em up like cordwood."

The governor said he did not say that. He said he did receive threats about the store, and reported them to the city in the usual manner.

Maddox also denied knowledge of an alleged meeting in 1962 at which he and a group of supporters were reported to have arranged several Ku Klux Klan endorsements for his Democratic runoff opponent for lieutenant governor, Peter Zack Geer.

Geer defeated Maddox in the 1962 Democratic primary runoff for lieutenant governor, after the two emerged from a nine-man race for the post.

Dallas Bar Denies Drinks To An African Official

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The National Education Association has filed a protest with the State Department and has asked for a probe by the Justice Department because an African nation's official said he was refused service in a Dallas bar.

The incident took place near the Municipal Auditorium where about 8,000 NEA members are holding a national convention.

A guest of the convention, Mooki Vitus Molapo, first secretary of the Embassy of Lesotho, said he was refused service because he is black.

Molapo quoted a waitress in the place as saying, "Can't you see that you're black? We don't serve blacks in here."

Sam M. Lambert, NEA executive secretary, asked the State Department to make an official apology to Molapo's ambassador in Washington.

Dallas officials, to whom the NEA also complained, said they were investigating the incident.

NEA President Braulio Alonso said delegates aroused over the incident might move for early adjournment of the convention, scheduled to run through Saturday.

"We have never met at a place that has racial discrimination and Dallas apparently has plenty of it," Alonso said. "Others have mentioned the possibility of a march on city hall, or refusing to buy anything in Dallas or making certain they never come here again.

"I have no definite word, however, that this matter will be brought up on the convention floor."

NEA officials said the same tavern also refused to serve Samuel B. Etheridge, a Negro who is the organization's new secretary for human relations.

Etheridge went there with three white associates, he said, after being told the placed refused to serve Negroes.

"As we went in," Etheridge said, "the waitress approached and before we could take a seat she said, we can't serve you, meaning me. She looked at the men with me and said, we can serve you, but not him."

An employee of the bar said it has always refused to serve Negroes on the premises.

The tavern's owner, I. M. Jolly, said his place does not serve food and he is required by law to serve beer to any customer only if it also sells food.

"I abide by the law," Jolly said. "I hope to continue my present policy, but if I have to, I'll serve them (Negroes)."

Election First, Then A Wedding

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Julie Nixon says she and fiance David Eisenhower are going to wait until after the November election to make their wedding plans.

Julie, daughter of Republican presidential hopeful Richard M. Nixon, appeared with David at a news conference yesterday during a political visit.

Asked if there were plans for a White House wedding, Julie said, "I really think my father is going to be elected but we'll have to make wedding plans after the election.

Marin Dining And Wining

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Lagunitas' Viking Restaurant Suddenly A Reservations Spot

If you have in mind dining at the Old Viking in Lagunitas one of these balmy summer evenings, and you haven't been there recently, be prepared for a surprising development — the advisability of making a reservation.

Strange as it may seem to find a situation like this at what previously appeared to be a rather remote Marin dining spot, it does exist. The Mattssons now count among their regular customers visitors from all over the Bay Area, and beyond. Rather than make a long trip only to be turned down upon arrival these people are making advance reservations. It is best that you do the same.

The Old Viking has two dining rooms; I call them the "City Dining Room" and the "Country Dining Room." The first has the decor of a miniature cosmopolitan dinery. The second is more in keeping with the rural environment of that part of Marin, especially now that Matts Mattsson has bought the property adjoining this side of his lot.

Looking ahead three or four years I'll predict that the day will come when he will expand the Country Dining Room several times its present size. And my guess is that this will then become the Old Viking's only dining room. The City Dining Room will probably be made into a cocktail lounge.

Right now, both dining rooms are attractive and are being kept occupied. And so is the screened-in front porch where tables have been placed. It's always a pleasant experience for me to see a small Marin restaurant with such a promising future. You can be assured of one thing. The food is good — otherwise it couldn't have happened.

COREY'S RESTAURANT in downtown San Rafael has closed for another remodeling and facelifting.

Salvatore Iachino, who recently purchased it, prefers to waste no more time in making all the changes he had planned. The place will be closed until at least the first week in August, for installation of a new kitchen, alteration of the front doorway and carpeting of the dining room floor.

Its reopening will be under the new name of Romulus, not Romolo's as previously stated in this column. Salvatore is using the Latin spelling. Cuisine will be Italian and French and his chef will be Tomaso Cucaro, who is no stranger to Marin County. He has been at a number of local restaurants and for a time had his own place, I believe in Napa.

Romulus will be open seven days a week for breakfast, lunch and dinner. Breakfast will be from 7 a.m.; lunches from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.; and dinners from 5 to 11 p.m. Prices will be in the medium range. Salvatore intends to apply for a wine and beer license.

AFTER A SLIGHT DELAY, the Red Whale at Stinson Beach now has both sides of its dual operation under way — teen-agers on one side and adults on the other. The former Dipsea Inn, the spot has been completely remodeled by Harry Cole, Joseph Neary and Beverly Delmas.

A medium priced menu includes seafood items such as louies, chowder, fish and chips, cioppino and filet of sole along with pizzas and a one-half pound hamburger specialty known as a "whaleburger," which seems to have become extremely popular.

The Red Whale has a wine and beer license active on the adult side and a novelty beverage service is "draught" champagne. To explain this would spoil the effect, so I'll let you find out how it is accomplished by ordering it.

Menu on the teen-agers' side (known as Jonah's Room) is slightly modified to allow for lower food budgets.

Hours are from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. during the week and to 2 a.m. on Friday and Saturday nights. An entertainment group known as the Owl is performing this weekend, interchanging between the two rooms.

REGRETABLY the Jasmine House Chinese restaurant in Larkspur has closed its doors. But owner Jimmie Lee is not far away, still active in his own venture, the Chinese Kitchen, on the Larkspur-Kentfield strip, which has been serving up fine Chinese food to take home for a number of years.

He has no immediate plans for reopening a restaurant at another Marin location, but if a particularly good opportunity were to present itself I imagine he would consider it.

IT'S A SMALL WORLD when two couples from as far away as Clearwater, Fla. meet up at Sabella's in Marin without plans aforethought. When the J. H. Petersons of that city recently looked at the adjoining table, there were their friends, the Harlow Merridges, from the same community. It just happened that both couples were taking in California sights at the same time, and two of the sights happened to be Marin and Sabella's.

RUBINI'S in Fairfax, which has been closed since last Sunday, will reopen tonight.

PRIME RIBS OF BEEF is a new Saturday and Sunday dinner attraction on the menu at L'Europe on the San Rafael Miracle Mile.

BASEHEART'S — apparently now the accepted name for what was going to be called Chris' Corners — has opened at Pacheco Plaza Shopping Center in Ignacio. It is also being called the Plaza Restaurant and Cocktail Lounge. Chris and Lavonne Baseheart have not quite made up their minds.

Lunches are served daily from 11 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., dinners from 5 to 9:30 p.m. The bar is open daily from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

INN MARIN at Strawberry Town and Country Village is discontinuing lunches until September 15. The same fine food will continue to be served during the dinner hours.

BLACK FOREST INN in downtown San Rafael has been closed for remodeling. The chances are that there will not be a reopening this month.

RANCHO NICASIO, while still featuring its famous "red meat" entries, is expanding its seafood department. Chef Gene Pah has come up with two bell ringers: Stuffed oysters and stuffed abalone. These are available any night.

There is dancing Friday and Saturday nights from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., with drummer Johnny Vendigni and accordionist Sam Franco providing the music and entertainment.

IN SAN FRANCISCO: Vocalist Fran Jeffries opened yesterday at Bimbo's 365 Theater Restaurant. On the same bill is a group of 10 singers and musicians known as The Rama Music Co. This is not a rock and roll group but specializes in singing in several languages. . . . Kuo Wah's Flower Drum Lounge has booked Allen and Mabel Cheng for every night but Sunday, from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. He plays piano, drums, accordion, vibraphone and organ. She sings American songs, Japanese songs with Chinese lyrics, Chinese songs with Chinese lyrics and American songs with Chinese lyrics.

New Income Tax Guides To Be Sent

Revised income tax withholding tables based on the 10 per cent surcharge signed by President Johnson last week will be mailed to all employers who have been filing quarterly withholding tax returns, the Internal Revenue Service said today.

The new guides will contain new tables both in percentage and wage-bracket form, the IRS said.

Laws Cannot Be Made On Streets, Sidewalks

A pamphlet just issued, setting forth the position of the Reagan Administration on law and order, is particularly apropos in the light of the current unrest in East Bay communities.

"There are those today who say that each man can choose the law he wishes to obey; that need for social change is justification to wreck society; that reform is excuse enough to violate individuals and destroy property."

Responsible reform must proceed in an orderly manner through legally constituted channels. Forcing a city council or other government agency to close a public street just because one group wants to hold a celebration or demonstration at the expense and inconvenience of the rest of the community is not responsible action.

Press reports indicate that the Berkeley City Council did offer an alternate site for the demonstration. But the young militants wanted a portion of Telegraph Avenue closed off.

One of the leaders argued that by asking for a permit to use Telegraph Avenue, they were following "due process" of the law. But when that request was denied and another site offered, the militants balked. They ignored the fact that denial of the permit was also "due process." In this instance, the city later relented and thus avoided a showdown.

Law and order turns to anarchy if individuals or groups bend or ignore the laws to fit their particular whims or demands. The right of assembly, peaceful or otherwise, does not give one group a license to plunk themselves down on the main street of town or in the middle of the Golden Gate Bridge just because that happens to be the site of their choosing.

To quote again from the Administration pamphlet on law and order:

"We cannot be safe, we cannot be free, if liberty becomes license; those who hold otherwise are not liberal, they are licentious. . . .

"The time has come to state that the law will be upheld — and mean it; to say that once again no man will be above the law — or beneath it, and that if the law is to be changed, the revisions will be written in the halls of government, not on the streets and sidewalks."

Deer Deterrent

The deer have never been so bold in the 20 years we have lived in our little Kentfield dale. This year we could wake up almost any night and mentally hear them munching away on shrubs and flowers. Nothing was safe. They devoured petunias, tomatoes geraniums, veronica, chrysanthemums, hydrangeas, several settings of roses and other plants.

The lady of the house and good gardener was understandably distraught. She shed a few tears at first, then disappointment hardened into anger. She sprayed the garden with a deer deterrent which is supposed to smell like mountain-lion urine. It did and so did the garden. After the initial surprise wore off, our deer seemed to regard it as a new seasoning. Next she turned our garden into a chamber of horrors by mixing blood meal with water, and placing cans of it close to choice plants. Still the deer came and ate our choicest blossoms.

Then we had an idea. Why not place a cheap transistor radio in the flower beds at night, tuned into an all-night music station? We tried it and we have roses for the first time this year.

We pass the idea along. Perhaps you can use it.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Uniform Sales Tax In Danger Of Being Dashed To Pieces

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Thorough study of California's complicated tax structure, as proposed by Gov. Ronald Reagan, appears now to be needed more than ever before.

The need results from the legislature's indecision concerning the handling of property tax relief and the overall competition between taxing agencies for new sources of revenue to keep up with the spiraling costs of government at all levels.

Government, as predicted some years ago, finds it has run out of new sources of revenue, so the problem as it presents itself at the present time, is one of shuffling present sources, including the major revenue producers such as the sales tax, the income tax and the property tax, to get more money on a more equalized basis, and at the same time, make it look like taxes aren't being increased.

WHILE THE County Supervisors Association of California is pleased over the legislature's action in extending the date for reduction of half a cent in the state sales tax, the organization nevertheless has some concern over future action of some of California's large cities which are planning to increase their own sales taxes.

Robert W. Boles, president of the supervisors association, said he fears that the state's system of collecting state and local sales taxes, is in danger of "being dashed to pieces."

Boles points out that cities throughout California "are flirting with the idea of filling the vacuum that would be caused by a half cent drop in the state sales tax with an increase in local sales taxes."

"IF THIS happens," he declared, "California's Bradley-Burns uniform sales and use tax law is in danger of being dashed to pieces as eager cities re-establish the crazy quilt pattern of varying sales tax rates and collection that made it virtually impossible to do business in California during the period from 1950 to 1955."

The Bradley-Burns Act was adopted partially to eliminate the hodge-podge of sales tax collection and differences in rates throughout the state, and a reversion to the old methods again would create the same problem, with the only exception noted being that the people would be paying a bigger percentage of sales tax.

Already, the city of Los Angeles, by vote of the city council, has raised the municipal sales tax from one to two per cent. Boles points out. If the sales tax reverts to four and a half cents next October, Los Angeles would have a five and a half cent tax, while other cities in that county would have a five cent tax and unincorporated areas the state rate of four and a half cents.

THUS, IF confusion is to be avoided and business to be maintained on an equalized basis throughout the state, it would seem probable that some steps have to be taken to continue the uniform sales tax in effect.

One course the study of tax reform probably will take would be the desirability of the state pre-empting the sales tax field, thereby limiting the imposition of such a tax, and the rates thereof to the state legislature.

But in any event, the citizen taxpayer can, as he has in the past, depend on it that whatever course the legislature takes, and whatever methods are adopted, he will pay as much or more in taxes!

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

America No Longer 'Morally Healthy'

Can America any longer be called a morally healthy nation, when three of her most prominent left-wingers are showered with post-mortem accolades, ad-nauseam, while no attempt is made to rescue from captivity the real heroes and servants of the Republic, namely, the crew of the Pueblo? . . .

On this anniversary of our Independence, a diagnosis of America's real sickness will be in order. The syndrome of our sickness is observed to be:

1st: A mass guilt-phobia that can only be atoned for by adherence to Marxist concepts which eradicate all nationalism, private property ownership, religious convictions, and individualism.

2nd: A creeping paralysis of amorality, in which a sense of shame for wrongdoing is a thing of the "Puritanical" past, and in which the Biblical standards of conduct upon which America was founded are relegated to antiquity.

3rd: A sleeping-sickness of euphoria, with its corresponding unawareness that our personal liberties are rapidly disappearing.

4th: A malignant tumor of tolerance of civil disobedience, sedition, and lawlessness. . . .

Americans have left the faith of their Fathers, and hence we are dangerously near a Communist take-over. Unless Americans return to the Living God in personal repentance, as did the Ninevites of old, our Republic will vanish into the dust of oblivion, to be succeeded by the slavery of a socialist dictatorship.

Reduced Firearms Won't Cut Crime

Statistics researched by the University of Pennsylvania in 1967 — covering the year 1966 — indicate a relationship between firearms ownership and serious crime rates in the various states. Oddly enough the data do not support a theory that serious crime rates drop when fewer firearms are in the hands of private owners. Instead, those states with the highest incidence of firearms ownership have the LOWEST serious crime rates. . . .

Beyond the fact that criminals function best against the helpless, there is a character-building aspect of firearms ownership often overlooked by those who would unduly restrict firearms ownership. . . .

Should gun registration become a fact in Marin, does anyone seriously think the thieves will come forward with these guns? If one is seriously interested in lowering crime rates, then he should encourage and promote firearms ownership by the honest, law-abiding public — not discourage it through registration.

Parents Should Help Support Court Ward

I have followed with interest your recent articles concerning group homes, wards of the Juvenile Court, the Probation Department and the parents of court wards and their responsibilities vis a' vis their children. I feel that you have taken a narrow and inconsistent point of view . . .

If I have understood the tone of your articles correctly you feel that parents of delinquent wards of the court are being economically exploited either by their children, county government, or both, when these wards are placed in treatment institutions for care and when the parents are expected to pay what they can afford toward their care. Your premise appears to be that if this care does not meet with the full approval of the parents they should not be held responsible.

As a psychiatrist with not inconsiderable experience in such matters I would like to point out some aspects that may not have occurred to you . . . First of all it has been my experience that court wardship, by and large, takes place too late rather than too early with the result that many juveniles are beyond repair by the time they come to the attention of society's agencies. Efforts have nearly always been made to give parents every benefit of the doubt and every opportunity to correct their family disorders before wardship is instituted. This is not to say, of course, that in the overwhelming majority of cases the parents have not done their best to correct the situation. It is only to state the obvious sad fact that they have failed in those efforts. No one, unfortunately, is perfect, even we parents.

It is another sad fact, however, that after wardship has taken place and a child is removed from his family, the only remaining vestige of parental responsibility toward that child is often his economic support. We now hear a hue and cry that parents should be excused from even this. This in spite of the fact that a major factor in delinquency is rejection, either conscious or unconscious of children by their parents. To excuse the parent from any further responsibility toward his child seems to me, not only a feeding into the already serious pathology of the child, but contributing to the delinquency of parents. The American family is on weak enough legs at the moment without adding another kick in the shins!

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

July 5, 1958

S/Sgt. James P. Vanderlee of San Rafael was one of three men who survived for nine hours in the mid-Pacific after their plane crashed into the ocean.

Frank Lloyd Wright, architect for the Marin Civic Center, sent a telegram with his good wishes for the success of the Art and Garden Fair.

20 YEARS AGO

July 5, 1948

A carelessly thrown firecracker was blamed for a fire that destroyed a $16,000 ranch home owned by Sam and Zeke Smith.

A Corte Madera man, William P. Duffin, 20, clung to his capsized boat for seven hours before being rescued a half mile off shore near San Rafael.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

A strait-laced Boston minister, according to Charlie Rice, was horrified at the exaggerated miniskirts his pretty daughter persisted in wearing. One day he bumped into her on Boston Common and discovered that her skirt was even three inches shorter than usual. "Hello, daughter of Satan," thundered the outraged cleric. To which his daughter replied unabashedly, "Hi, Dad!"

"Take things in their stride and you'll live longer," was the constant advice of that remarkable lady, the late Grandma Moses. To illustrate her point, she liked to cite the apocryphical tale of the octogenarian who was knitting placidly when her granddaughter burst into the room shouting, "Papa's just fallen off the roof." "I know, my dear," nodded the old lady, not missing a stitch. "I saw him pass the window."

"Show me" challenges Tony Martin, "a woman who gets down on her hands and knees — and I'll show you a woman who's searching for her contact lenses."

Italy's New Premier Faces Hot Summer

By RAY MOSELEY

ROME (UPI) — Italy was going through one of its recurring political crises a few years ago, and in parliament angry deputies were on the point of coming to blows.

From the president's podium, Giovanni Leone suddenly interrupted the debate and said: "Let's adjourn until 4 o'clock. It's 4 o'clock to us Neapolitans, you understand. For you foreigners, late afternoon."

Amid a burst of laughter, the tension went out of the assembly.

Leone, a wry Neapolitan who is Italy's new premier, is likely to need all his skill at defusing crises to get through this summer.

MUCH OF THE country is in an angry mood. Workers are striking. University students of the left-wing are calling for revolution. The Communists promise to give Leone's government trouble in parliament.

And Leone has at best a three-vote margin to keep his government alive.

A 59-year-old Christian Democratic senator, Leone was brought to the helm of government not to resolve the nation's political crisis bus to conduct a holding operation until a solution is in sight.

THE SOCIALISTS who joined the Christian Democrats in a center-left government five years ago lost heavily in the elections to the Communists and refused to enter the new government.

They said the Christian Democrats were to blame for their setbacks because they failed to carry out social and economic reforms, making the Socialist presence in the government meaningless.

The Christian Democrats lack a majority in parliament, but they can muster a slim majority if the Socialists and the Republicans, their other partners in the former center-left, abstain from voting and if all the Christian Democrats remain loyal.

MUCH DEPENDS on what kind of program Leone offers in his inaugural speech to parliament.

Most political observers believe he will be compelled to act as though the center-left still existed, and offer a program of governmental reforms.

Leone is expected to give greatest emphasis to reforms in government administration and in the university system. Students have been demonstrating and rioting all year in a demand for university reforms.

The Communists have promised they are going to push for reforms in the pension system to give workers greater retirement benefits.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Mansfield And Dirksen Poised For Paris Trip

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

Washington—President Johnson has quietly alerted top Senate leaders for a quick mission to Paris to give bipartisan backing to U.S. negotiators at the Vietnam peace talks.

The President has asked Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., and Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., to stand by for such a trip on short notice. Both have said they will hold themselves ready for such an assignment.

The major purpose of an appearance by the Senate leaders at the Paris negotiation table would be to show North Vietnamese negotiators that the Administration's peace initiatives have broad support in Congress and in the nation.

IN THAT context, the two party leaders do represent a broad spectrum of public opinion. They differ on policies in Southeast Asia as well as in their party labels.

Republican Leader Dirksen has generally supported the President's Vietnam policies. He has helped to keep other GOP leaders in a position of general support for the President.

Democratic Leader Mansfield has frequently criticized the Administration's actions in Vietnam. He has said the President's negotiators should have complete "flexibility" in Paris and has suggested that a halt to all bombing in North Vietnam would contribute to the success of the talks there.

Thus the addition of the two senators to the Administration's negotiating team could strengthen the hand of the present negotiators, Ambassador W. Averell Harriman and Cyrus Vance, former deputy defense secretary.

TIMING IN DOUBT — The timing for such a Mansfield-Dirksen mission is now uncertain. Ever since the start of the Paris talks some U.S. officials have been concerned that the North Vietnamese might treat Harriman and Vance as the spokesmen for a caretaker administration which is already declining in influence and power.

In their view, Communist negotiators might try to keep the talks on dead center until after the presidential elections in November and deal with a new administration next year.

Recently here for consultation, Harriman is said to have reported some glacial movement in the position of North Vietnamese negotiators. There is no indication that the presence of congressional leaders at the negotiating table would be particularly timely now.

Under those circumstances — and with Congress struggling to close up shop before the Republican National Convention opens Aug. 5 — Mansfield and Dirksen want to stay on the job. For now, their presence here will best serve the President's interests.

In the end the usefulness and timing of a congressional mission to Paris will be determined by the North Vietnamese to a large degree. Their private positions, as set forth in the widely publicized coffee-breaks, and their publicized propaganda will greatly influence the President's decision.

TESTED TECHNIQUE — The use of congressional leaders in delicate international negotiations has a long diplomatic history. It was especially popular at the end of World War II when Senate foreign policy experts Tom C. Connally, D.-Tex., and Arthur H. Vandenberg, R-Mich., participated in several international conferences.

Significant in the present instance, however, is President Johnson's selection of his senatorial representatives. He has passed up the present-day foreign policy experts — today's counterparts of Connally and Vandenberg — to alert the Democratic and Republican party leaders. Dirksen is not even a member of the Foreign Relations Committee, and Mansfield is only its third ranking Democrat.

By appointing the top-ranking members of the Foreign Relations Committee, Johnson could have gotten the same political and ideological spread embodied by Mansfeld and Dirksen. Such a choice would have meant designating Chairman J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., and Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R-La. Hickenlooper, like Dirksen, has generally supported the President on Vietnam. Fulbright, even more than Mansfield, has opposed him.

IN STICKING with the party leadership Johnson gives another little snub to Fulbright, for whom he has little affection at this point. Fulbright is running for re-election and, while he is now thought to be in no serious trouble, a hurry-up call to serve the nation in vital negotiations abroad might have helped at the ballot box.

In that connection, it must be noted that Dirksen is running for re-election too, and the 72-year-old Republican leader has been as helpful as the loyal opposition can be in advancing President Johnson's program at the Capitol.

As matters stand, Dirksen will get the campaign dividends when and if Senate leaders are sent on a dramatic flight to Paris to confront the Communists in the hope of achieving a Vietnam truce.

Southern Marin Has Everything: Old Tombstone To Nudibranchia

This has been the month to find things in Southern Marin.

And Southern Marin being the individualistic community that it is, people here do not find ordinary things like wallets with $100 bills in them or lost watches. Instead, the finders-keepers come up with such things as old tombstones and sea slugs.

Capt. Ralph K. (Swede) Pedersen of the Sausalito Fire Department called the other day to report that he had just stumbled across an old wooden tombstone in his back yard. After a bit of investigating, Swede learned that son Kenny and friends had come across the board on a Mill Valley side street one afternoon about two weeks ago.

The three-by-four-foot tombstone is made of redwood with embossed lettering in what appears to be Portuguese. At the top of the tombstone is the word "Falesceo" ("died") followed by a cross about one foot long. A list of names and dates of those buried below follows.

WITHOUT attempting to reproduce the exact spacing, the tombstone reads something like this: Falesceo. (cross). Candidace Serpa, Nocia (born) 31 De Janeiro De 1876, De Dade De 25 Annos. Jose Perrira (or Ferrir) (or Ferrira) Serpa. Jose Perendco Marcos. E. Maria Candida, Natural (Word Undreadable) Do Fial. Fial, according to some Portuguese friends of Swede, is a city in the Azores from whence many of our local Portuguese neighbors trace their ancestors.

Apparently in the 1876 days, some families set aside one area of a large garden for the family burial plot. Swede believes the tombstone came from such a plot.

He plans to keep the tombstone and hopes to be able to trace the families listed. So, if one of the persons listed above happens to be your great grandfather, call Swede.

THE NUDIBRANCH is back in town, reports Hugh G. Lawrence of Sausalito.

Several of the little sea creatures have been found by Lawrence's two young sons in the Sausalito Yacht Harbor after an absence of several years.

The Nudibranch, listed in the dictionary as the nudibranchiate, is a mollusk which lacks a shell and true gills. It is more commonly identified as a sea slug.

The marine creatures have not been found in the Sausalto area in recent years, because of the pollution of shore waters, Lawrence believes. Their reappearance is a sign that the pollution is dissipating, he says.

According to Lawrence, the outfall line from the old American Distillery plant at the foot of Nevada Street once dumped waste material into the bay that was strong enough to kill worms and other marine life on boat bottoms. As a matter of fact, in past days, he says, the true salts moored their boats near the outfall line whenever they were due for bottom cleaning thus saving themselves the price of drydock. With the closing of the distillery came the end of the dumping — and the return of the sea slugs.

Fairfax Trustees Due Budget Look

Fairfax School District trustees are to adopt a $853,057 publication budget for 1968-69 when they meet at 7:45 p.m. Tuesday in the district office, 58 Park Road.

Also on the agenda is the annual election of board officers, a report on annexation of White Hill School to the City of Fairfax, and a contract for data processing service.

How Student Rebels Defeated The British Flicks In 1776

PARIS — Ambassador and Mrs. Sargent Shriver are holding a July 4th party for 1,000 French students between the ages of 8 and 17. They asked me, as a personal favor, if I would explain the American Fourth of July in terms the French students would understand. So I'm going to try.

On July 4, 1776, a group of American students decided to overthrow the decadent colonial system of the bourgeois British. Called the "Enragees of '76," the students had been furious for some time at the British educational system, the rules concerning dormitory hours for coeds and the insistence of the Establishment that only British tea be served in student cafeterias.

THE YEAR before, a bunch of "Enragees" had taken the law into their own hands and, dressed as Indians, they had boarded a ship in Boston and dumped all the tea into the harbor. This infuriated the tea merchants, who accused the Boston colonial police of being too permissive for not immediately shooting the looters and restoring law and order at the harbor.

The British, reacting strongly to criticism, decided to put the students in their place at Lexington and Concord. But the students were tipped off by a student anarchist named Paul Revere who rode through the New England towns on a horse warning the people that the flicks were coming.

When the British gendarmes heard about it they trumped up charges against Revere for stealing a horse, but he escaped and became a hero of the revolution.

In the meantime, the students had set up barricades at Bunker Hill and occupied the administration building and the library. The British flicks, dubbed "Red Coats," attacked Bunker Hill and, after much brutality, drove the "Enragees" out.

THIS ACT OF stupidity on the part of the police turned the working class of the Colonies against the Establishment, and they sent a petition to King George III demanding that he resign.

George III refused, saying if he went, there would be no one to take his place and there would be chaos and disorder in the land. He also hinted the French were behind the whole thing in an effort to embarrass him (at the time the British were attacking the French franc and buying up all the French gold).

When word was received that George III wouldn't give in on any of the "Enragees'" demands, though he did promise to appoint a commission to study the violence at Bunker Hill, the Committee of Revolutionists was formed with the express purpose of breaking off from the empire.

THEY MET IN the Student Union at Philadelphia. One of the leaders there, Thomas Jefferson, known as White Tom because the hair in his wig was all white, drafted a Declaration of Independence which was printed in the underground press of the time.

This made the British government officials so mad they called up the National Guard and vowed to wipe out the treacherous elements in the Colonies.

But by this time the revolution had spread to all parts of the country and, under the leadership of a wide-eyed revolutionary named George Washington, the Americans defeated the British and threw them out of the country.

And so every July 4th the Americans celebrate the anniversary of the student revolution which changed the history of the world. The British don't talk about it, although Gen. Cornwallis, who commanded the "Red Coats," did say, when he got back to England after the war, "It would have never happened if they had invented tear gas in time."

ABAG Criticism Prompts Withdrawal

YOUNTVILLE (AP) — Recent criticism leveled at the Association of Bay Area Governments was cited today as the reason the City of Yountville has withdrawn from the agency.

The action to quit the 91-city regional group was taken at a city council meeting Wednesday night after payment of yearly dues to ABAG came up.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Arrogant One Makes Accusation, Then Retracts When Called Down

Fusselman

On June 22 the I-J carried a story by Wat Takeshita that was a honey. — "McInnis Demands Plan Budget Cut . . . Touches Off An Uproar."

"Supervisor John F. McInnis threw county budget hearings into a turmoil yesterday by demanding cut in the planning department's $390,000 budget . . . (It) touched off a three hour shouting match. Words like 'politics,' 'collusion' and irresponsible flew back and forth among the supervisors and members of the audience.

"'I simply can not justify a budget of $389,000 or anything close' said McInnis. 'I would second that if I wanted Marin to look like San Mateo, Sacramento and parts of Sonoma' replied Supervisor Thomas T. Storer."

BEHR (Supervisor Peter H.) charged McInnis with staging a well planned attack with supporting members in the audience. "It would reduce us to the kind of planning produced by the City of San Rafael," said the arrogant one, who at a budget meeting, in a former year said he wasn't going to let the tax rate scare him.

When McInnis told him such suggestions were unworthy of him, Behr replied, "I will apologize for that."

NOW READ this: In Tuesday's I-J . . . "The San Rafael City Council today demanded that Supervisor Peter H. Behr retract and apologize for his recent statements" (As quoted above). (He) "flatly rejected the demand terming it, headline hunting (He should know) for obvious political purposes . . . I've made many remarks I would rather have apologized for than this one," said he, "and I don't apologize for them either."

All through his tenure in office he has been doing this (making outrageous accusations) and, when called, has backed off in most cases. This is the practice of some trial lawyers. — "I withdraw that your honor" or "strike that." Kind of not so good, don't you think?

DURING FEBRUARY of 1966 a Mill Valley man was all hot for this new planning director. He wanted us to, "Give the man a chance to pull us from the spreading squalor of 101." How about that? This fellow after five years pulled up stakes and went East to greener pastures. Now he couldn't care less.

Just what has this new planning director, Paul C. Zucker, produced for the money he has received personally, and the expanded costs of the department; besides talk and brazen lecturing of the commission and the supervisors?

It would be very interesting to list his accomplishments and then in another column the dollar costs.

A MONTH FROM next Monday I will be 80. I have spent over half my life here in Marin and can tell you this: the county has always been and is remaining wonderful. I have a great affection for every square mile of it. The only change has been that a lot of fine young families have come here to make their homes.

All this talk of an "Island in Time" and "Marin at the Crossroads," that those like Behr have been trying to put over, is just more Hoo-Malli-Malli. An expensive Messiah we don't need, just good neighbors working together. These we have and they work for the love of doing — not for the moola.

Student Demands Hit Mills College Leaders

OAKLAND (AP) — Mills College was the scene of a demonstration yesterday by 100 high school students taking part in the Upward Bound program.

The youngsters, mainly from minority races, drew up a list of demands and handed them to Mills president Robert J. Wert in two noisy sessions.

At one point Dr. West threatened to cancel the program if students continued in what he called their tactics of "inquisitions, demonstrations, confrontations and sit-ins."

For a time he canceled a student-faculty Fourth of July picnic at the Alameda County Fair, but it was finally held.

The student demands were for: A Negro director for the program, "since 96 per cent of the students are black."

A commitment from the college to admit some of the Upward Bound students, regardless of other entrance qualifications.

More black representation on the screening staff for admission, and more intensive counseling to help students get admitted into colleges.

The $180,000 seven-week program — with 80 per cent support from the Office of Economic Opportunity and 20 per cent from Mills — is, the college said, "designed to raise the students' sights and motivate them to further their education."

Dr. Wert said the students insisted upon a meeting with him and Dr. Margaret Gill, Upward Bound project director. He called it a "Star Chamber or inquisition" and added "never in my 20 years of college experience have I ever seen a college professor treated the way Miss Gill was treated."

He said yesterday he would be willing to discuss the issues so a third meeting was set for 1 p.m. Monday.

Mrs. Melvin Hammond is president of the Marin chapter of the National Foundation (March of Dimes).

Prisoner's Plane Hijack Try Thwarted

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A prisoner aboard an airliner carrying 71 passengers slipped away from his guards long enough to try a daring plot to hijack the plane yesterday. Then, he sat back between his guards and waited.

None of the other passengers aboard the Trans World Airlines plane knew of the threat made quietly by John Hamilton Morris to a stewardess:

"I've got dynamite in this bag. And my two buddies have guns. Turn this plane around and fly it to Hermosillo, Mexico."

RADIO ALERT

The stewardess told the pilot. He told aviation authorities in Los Angeles by radio. At their direction Capt. C. P. Barron changed course. For 20 minutes, while Morris sat between two deputy U.S. marshals, Barron slowly circled southern Nevada.

Then, as Barron sat the Boeing 727 down at McCarran Field, Morris bolted for a door. His guards grabbed and subdued him.

Morris, 48, was taken to Clark County jail here and the plane, after an hour's delay, continued its flight to San Francisco.

A spokesman for the Federal Bureau of Investigation said Morris would appear before a federal grand jury to answer a possible attempted hijacking charge. He was being flown from prison at Leavenworth, Kan., to San Francisco for an appeal hearing on his 15-year sentence for bank robbery.

MARSHALS FOOLED

Authorities said the two deputy marshals assigned to guard Morris agreed to let him go to a rest room at the front of the plane but didn't realize that he instead stopped and talked with the stewardess in the first-class compartment between the cabin section and the pilots.

Several Las Vegas police officers had entered the plane before the passengers realized what had happened.

"They were kind of startled when they found out," said a TWA spokesman. "But they weren't really frightened."

Pressmen Picket Hearst Castle

SAN SIMEON (AP) — Eight striking pressmen from the Hearst-owned Los Angeles Herald-Examiner picketed Hearst San Simeon Historical Monument yesterday.

The Hearst family donated the Hearst Castle to the state, but still owns a large acreage at San Simeon.

The state Department of Parks barred the pickets from a parking lot and restricted them to a boulevard stop about 20 feet from park gate.

Bob Rupert, an American Newspaper Guild official and administrator of strike headquarters in Los Angeles, said highway patrolmen agreed pressmen could picket on the parking lot.

The guild also is on strike against the Herald-Examiner, which has continued publishing since the walkout began Dec. 15.

From Ceramics To Sculpture With Off-Beat Art

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

For Mill Valley artist-housewife Chris Menkin (Mrs. Lawrence Menkin) her ceramics, painting and sculpture are purely a means of self-expression.

Every time she has entered a show her work has been accepted, and she always gets an award, but she doesn't care about ratings.

"I'M NOT INTERESTED in what people think of me," she says, "and my work is not done for anybody else but me. If people enjoy it, that's fine — it's a plus."

She thinks that anybody can be creative. "It's just a matter of perception — learning really to see things," she maintains. "You don't need a lot of expensive equipment. You can draw with a stick in the sand. In fact, sticks and twigs are fun to paint with. You just chew the ends and make them into a brush.

"People don't know what they can do until they try," she insists. "The great thing about using the simplest and cheapest of materials is that you don't have to be afraid to make a mistake. It costs nothing."

CONTINUING WITH OTHER suggestions, she said, "You can use old roller window shades you happen to have around the house, or you can pick up some for a few cents at a rummage sale. Then all you need is a can of spray paint to go to work making any design that you want. The shades can be cut up into small pictures or rolled out at length to make a mural size hanging."

Chris has a handsome one in bronze and yellow tones that she uses as a roll-up shade on her front door.

"Another suggestion," she added, "is that you can make pictures out of paper towels by covering a bread board or anything similar with aluminum foil, dabbing it with water color or food color using the fingers and then pressing a damp paper towel on the paint."

SOME LOVELY FREE form designs appeared as she demonstrated this process, and she suggested that accents can be made by painting around the edges with darker colors.

Chris also enjoys creating junk art and has been featured in Sausalito artist Art Grant's book about junk art. She is, however, a thoroughly trained artist and has been drawing and painting most of her life, she says.

She attended the Maryland Institute in Baltimore, Md., and has taken courses at Santa Monica City College and San Francisco State College, and in order to do metal sculpture, she took a course in industrial welding at the College of Marin, where she was the only woman in the class.

Chris has lived the kind of off-beat and exciting life that is conducive to fostering creative impulses.

HER REAL NAME itself implies adventure, for it is Columbia, and her nickname "Chris" comes from Christopher Columbus.

"My parents thought I should have the name because I was a true American," she explained, from a family combining English, Scottish, Irish, German, French, Dutch and Swedish ancestry.

Her first job after leaving college and going to New York to study art, was that of a pearl diver in an exhibit of the Imperial Syndicate, a synthetic pearl company, at the World's Fair.

"I was the one selected from about 350 girls because I could hold my breath longer than any other girl." She also did some dress modeling in department stores at this time.

In 1940 she met her husband, Larry, who was in show business and a pioneer in early radio and live television, as a writer-director-producer-actor.

"SOME OF HIS scripts are in texts on how to write for radio and television," she says, "and he is mentioned in history books on radio. He has written 400 television dramas, live and filmed, fiction and non-fiction, and holds more than 30 awards."

Some of the well known shows he wrote for in Hollywood are Death Valley Days, Rawhide, M-Squad, Mike Hammer, 77 Sunset Strip and Zane Grey Theater.

While they were in New York, Chris was one of the pioneers in forming the Mamaroneck Artist Society, which is now in full swing. And she herself produced the award-winning Mono-Drama Theater, one of the most talked about experimental shows in television circles. It was a brain-child of her husband's.

IN THIS FIVE-nights-a-week, serialized form, an original or out-of-public-domain classic was presented by one actor or actress with a minimum of props. Occasionally she wrote scripts for it herself, using ideas from newspaper stories.

At this point her husband joined the conversation and commented, "It was a big hit, and that taught us that the argument that audiences have the mentality of a 12-year-old was pure bunk. The trouble is there are too many producers with 12-year-old minds."

Today the situation for employment in television is bad, he said, because it's a non-consumable product — the re-runs go on forever. People are either doing very well or starving to death. Better than ever, though, he believes, are the news and documentaries.

San Francisco, he says, is very progressive and has some of the best things on television and radio, with as much freedom of speech as anywhere in the country.

AFTER TELEVISION BEGAN to be filmed, the Menkins moved to California and lived in the Palisades while Larry worked in Hollywood until four years ago when they moved to Marin County. Larry now does filmed documentaries for the United Bay Area Crusade.

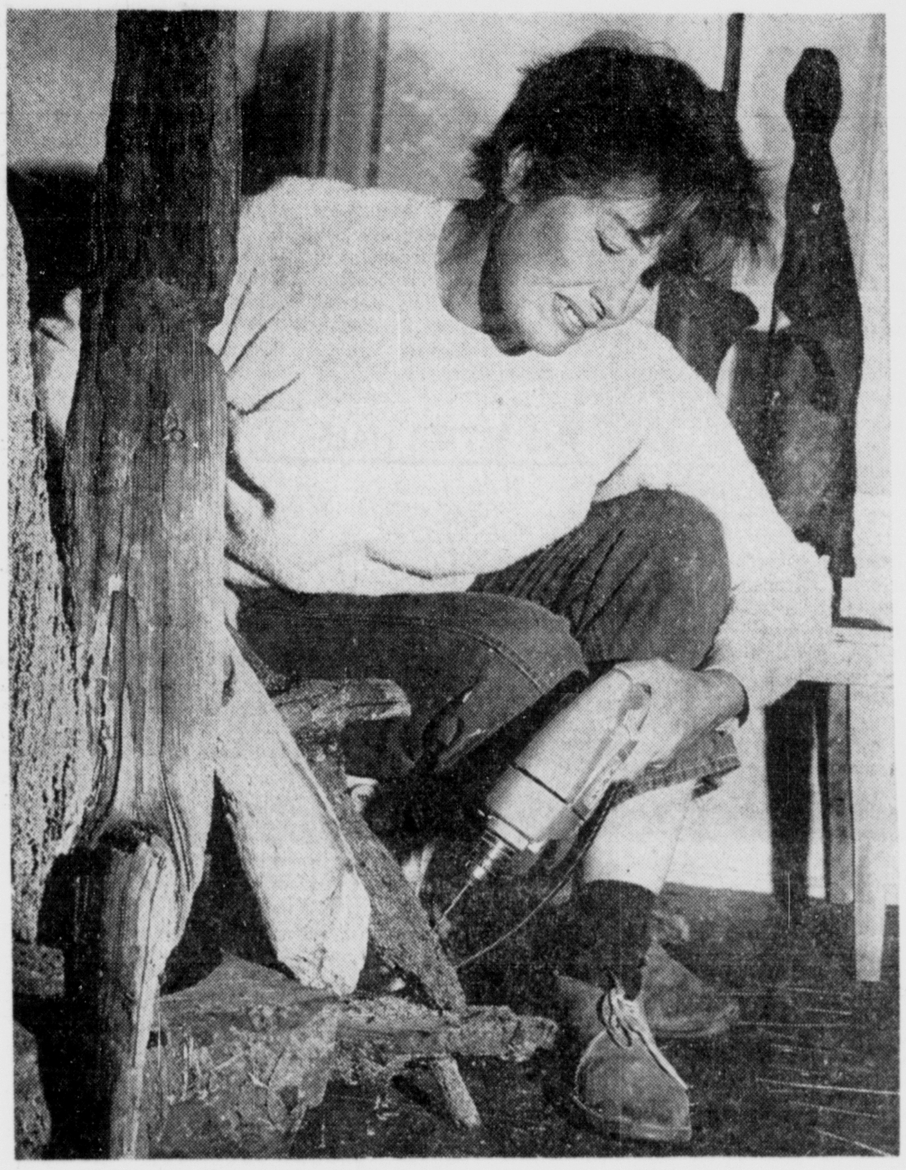
The Menkins have four sons, who have made their home a lively place.

Recently married, Lawrence Christopher, 26, works for San Mateo Assemblyman Leo Ryan doing public relations. He writes plays and is now on his third book. He also writes music and scored his father's first television script in San Francisco. For two years he was news editor for KFRC.

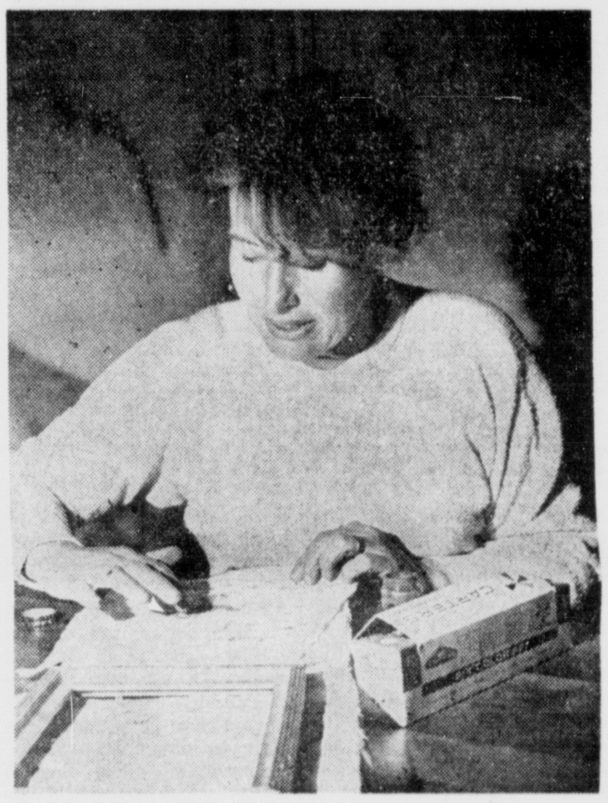
Michael, 25, is in Seattle to write and paint and is working part-time. Peter, 21, who is married, is with the United States Air Force in Puerto Rico doing television and radio. His by-line may be seen occasionally in the San Francisco Chronicle. When he was in high school he put out his own newspaper.

TOM, 18, HAS just finished his first year at San Francisco State College and has no idea yet what he wants to do.

A good bet would be that it will be something creative.



DRIFTWOOD IS ONE of Chris Menkin's favorite sculpture materials. She works on a piece with an electric drill. Behind her is an example of her ceramic work entitled "The Sisters."



DEMONSTRATING SOME of her inexpensive "housewife-art," Chris Menkin makes pictures by pressing a damp paper towel on paint that has been placed on an aluminum foil covered bread board. Seen behind her is a roll-up blind made from an old window shade that she painted with designs by using cans of spray paint.

CHRIS MENKIN became interested in sculpture when she felt she didn't know enough about third dimension. She is shown in her welding gear repairing an outdoor mobile supposed to be a great bird that waves gently in the breeze. It started out as a discarded piece of scrap metal stamped out by a machine.

Newest Hangout Of Teens

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures

Teen-agers are hanging out in music stores, say the American Music Conference group, people who keep track of such things.

Drug store proprietors couldn't be happier. They have been pulling out on young people in recent years, and it isn't easy if it is an old-time store with a family business.

The excuse given when soda fountain and booths are removed is that it is in the interest of expansion. The druggist needs more room for drugs. One New England druggist notes "there wasn't enough profit in ice cream and soda as a sideline to make it worthwhile. I liked young people around but new people in town complained about noise, confusion and bad service. It's all right until you get competition and the other drug store doesn't have a fountain. You lose business."

Meanwhile, music stores — and there are 11,000 —are expanding because of young people's interest.

In St. Louis, music merchant Lee Hamilton has built a million-dollar business in five years with three stores that are jumping with teen-age enthusiasm.

On Friday nights when jam sessions and other special events are scheduled, crowds of more than 300 are attracted, report the music conference group. More than 70 different musical groups play at his store.

Miami's Bill Binder added a separate room to his store and called it "Guitar Alley" designed for musicmakers who like rock or classics. Next door to it is a 150-seat music hall where teen-age combos perform and compete for prizes.

In Minneapolis, Irv Trestman publishes a news letter for music-minded types. It has a circulation of 3,000 and follows youthful customers wherever they go. He has gone through all the music problems himself, he explains, so he tries to help youngsters in every way possible at his music center.

Hollywood's Seymour Drugan who directs the instruments department at the Splevin Music Center reports that 400 boys and girls will again traffic his place this summer, 150 a day more than those visiting during the school year.

One way to boost teen-age traffic is to bring in some big name stars. "Mo" Mahoney's Drum Shop in Las Vegas has pros like Louis Bellson and Buddy Rich putting on regular instruction clinics for young people.

Young people attracted to music stores are not really killing time says the music group. They want to play instruments and to own them.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Writer Offered Condolences For Husband, If She Is Not Single

DEAR WOMAN HATER:

Once again your biased, unsympathetic advice to the poor miserable wife on nerve pills gives proof and credence to your cruel sadistic sporting attitude toward women. (Note from H. I merely asked, "Did the bad marriage cause the nerves, or the nerves cause the bad marriage?)

I notice when a man's sins of omission are revealed and his greedy, selfish nature is exposed, you are at a loss for words to give sound, justifiable advice to long-suffering, respectable wives and mothers.

My advice to this wife is to give her good-for-nothing husband a heart attack and stroke by putting him up to his neck in debt. That's the best solution to mates who show their true nature which is invariably greedy, selfish, mean, unfaithful, cruel and inhuman.

Boy, do you play favorites.

And why don't you print my letters. Are you scared to face the truth? — H.F.

DEAR H.

I print about one of your letters a year; they're too repetitious to use oftener. Sorta cringe each time as I hate to see a woman make a fool of herself even though she asks for it.

My condolences to your husband, if you have one, and if you haven't, keep it that way. Single acrimony suits you better. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Here's my version of What Is A Husband?

He's the biggest worry of your marriage, but the most wonderful man in the world.

He's the guy who makes you cry, but always wipes away the tears.

He's the one who is always right, even if things turn out wrong.

He's the man who hollers, "Hurry up," but can't remember when he was late.

He's the male who flirts with pretty women, but "never notices another female."

He's the guy who never gets jealous, as long as you don't talk to another man.

He's a typical male who likes short skirts, so long as his wife doesn't wear them.

He's the supporter of the family, but the one who is always broke.

He's great at putting things out of place, but never remembers where he got them.

He's the one who starts the arguments, and waits for you to apologize.

He hates to get involved in housework, but he's the first to help if you're sick.

He's the man you chose out of the whole world, but you wonder what made you get married.

You sometimes don't know what you'll do with him, but you wonder what you would ever do without him. . . .

STEPPING SOFTLY

The black leggy look is brightened considerably with Kasper of Joan Leslie's orange wool coat. It's disciplined with a self-tied belt and buttoned cuffs and accessorized with a wild combination of navy yellow and white in scarf and matching fedora. (UPI photo)

Comfort, Rest And Food Are Very Important To The Traveler

Here at home, you can be fairly sure of sanitation which protects your health. You can't always take for granted the same protection when you travel abroad. A great deal of discomfort and inconvenience can be avoided, however, if a few simple precautions are taken.

Food and water may be safe in the better hotels and restaurants, but even there upsets may occur unless you are very selective about your eating and drinking. Thoroughly cooked foods are the safest. Bottled water should be used for drinking, brushing teeth, and the preparation of all beverages served cold. Avoid the use of ice in drinks. It may have been made from contaminated water and there is not enough alcohol in mixed drinks to kill the bacteria. If you eat raw fruit, be sure the skin is unbroken and that it is washed in your presence with bottled water.

Immunization shots should be obtained from your family doctor well in advance of your trip. Which kind you need will depend to some extent on where you plan to go. For any trip outside Canada and the U. S. possessions, you must have a smallpox vaccination. To prove that you have been vaccinated, you must obtain and have your doctor fill out an International Certificate of Immunization, which must then be officially stamped by a local health department. If you do not have this form in proper order, you may experience great inconvenience and delay upon your return to the United States. Smallpox vaccination is not given when another infection is present, when a child has exzema or other rashes, when a chronic malignant disease is present, or during pregnancy. A physician's statement that a patient's illness makes vaccination hazardous will substitute for public health requirements for travel.

Your physician can tell you about other immunizations which, though not required by law, may be advisable for travel to some places. Shots for typhus cholera, and yellow fever may be needed if your trip takes you to certain parts of Asia, Africa, Eastern Europe, Central and South America. Wherever you go, it's a good idea to make sure that your protection against polio is complete. The outbreaks in recent years of typhoid fever in a fashionable Swiss resort and in Scotland have re-emphasized the importance of immunization against that disease.

Most Americans have been immunized against tetanus, commonly known as lockjaw. The danger of this infection is great in any puncture of the skin, especially when contaminated by soil. Following injury, a tetanus booster shot is commonly given to make certain that protection is complete. If you plan to visit remote areas where immediate medical attention is not always available, your physician may suggest a booster shot before you leave.

Medicines can be prescribed by your doctor for use in dysentery and other common disorders. If you take medication regularly, make sure that you take along an adequate supply. If you suffer from a chronic illness which might require emergency care, you should carry a card or tag identifying this condition. Illness is always more distressing when it occurs away from home. You can reduce the chance of having it spoil your pleasure if you prepare in advance.

Keep comfortable — and this final warning applies to those who are vacationing in this country, as well as those who travel abroad. Most vacations — particularly if they take you to new cities — call for hour after hour of walking. Fortify yourself by packing comfortable shoes, and take along your favorite foot powder or lotion to relieve the discomfort of hot tired feet. And don't try to crowd all your sightseeing into one day. Many of the discomforts which travelers experience can be attributed to exhaustion. Make realistic plans for each day, try to plan a midday rest, particularly if you are in a warm climate and don't push yourself so hard that at the end of the day you are too tired to sleep.

Headache Cause

That oral contraceptives can precipitate or aggravate vascular headache has been known for several years. Now however, it is suggested that such headaches may be a sign of impending blockage of a cerebral artery.

At the annual meeting of the American Association for the Study of Headache, three doctors reported on 15 women, 14 of whom had headache and later developed cerebral artery blockage.

Many women, the physicians reported, develop the initial phases of the disease but never progress to the more serious stages because they discontinue the oral drugs, either on their own or on advice of a physician.

ANTIQUE ACCENTS

Everybody loves "Gay Nineties" antiques!

Even the most modern kitchen warms up to Victornian fancies! Embroider on towels, cloth, napkins, place mats. Pattern 776: twenty motifs, about 3 x 4 inches.

Skirt Lengths

Skirt lengths will be moving downward but slowly. Just-above-the knee probably will prevail for at least another year, possibly two.

Fashion seers at Celanese say the greatest impact of the midi (mid-calf) for the present will be in coats for the young. They'll be worn with boots and a short skirt. The maxi, just above the ankle length, will be featured in beach, patio and at-home wear.

FASHION NEWS

New York Designers Keep Hemlines Up For Autumn

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — The curtain has come down on the New York fashion play for autumn and the hit news is the hemline staying up.

But midst all the drama that goes with the big openings of ready-to-wear collections for buyers and press the finale leaves the fashion critic with a lot of memos to herself on little things also to watch.

Hemlines still above the knees, yes, and waistlines coming back, yes; these are part of the big act.

But what of suit shapes, of the jewelry, of shoes, of trends in men's wear, of furs, of what's ahead on the children's scene.

IN A MONTH of note-taking the mass of information almost overwhelms. So herewith, some further fashion reminders.

About shapes of suits, the mainstays of many women's wardrobes: There are three major ones.

One is the elongated, with jacket almost like a tunic, slender at the top and often with an inset belt and a lengish skirt, an echo of the suffragette. Another has a chunky, short jacket and a skirt cut almost dirndl-full. And the third is with hip length jacket, belted with shiny leather. Below, there is always an easy skirt, either gored or A-line flared.

JEWELRY HAS never been so plentiful; worn on shoes, boots, skirts, pockets, scarves, hats, as well as on necks and ears. There's a strong Middle Eastern influence in chains, filigree, medallions, antique coins, a heavy look of textured gold. Watch for tassels, even on boots.

For the chain gang enthusiasts these come in rhinestones or what-have-you and are molded to wind up the arm like the snake bracelet. Wear rings in abundance too; two or three to a finger. Some of the models do this, wearing circlets on all but the thumb. Big button shapes are a favorite in earrings.

The chunky looking shoe is the "in shoe" for fall, marked with heavy, clod-like heels a little higher for the new season. Favorite height is one and one-half inches. Heels come in stacked leathers, in metals and for evening with glitter added. There seems no end to the turn of boots, in all heights from ankle to mid-thigh.

IN MEN'S WEAR, watch for the Nehru tunic jacket to move to the front; this is the mandarin collar with front closing eliminating need for fancy shirt beneath. Instead, the man hangs a jewelled medallion on a chain around the neck. Patterned evening jackets, in single or double-breasted versions come in tones of blue, green, maroon, or in solids with black shawl collars on brown.

Furs take both to color and to combination with other materials. Raccoon and lamb are dyed bright shades. Mink appears in brilliant hue and beaver in pale blue or blue-green. A favorite combination is fur with leather.

IN CHILDREN'S wear, it's the year of the Nehru collar too. Or, call it guru or mandarin, showing in outerwear for both boys and girls. Vests, a very popular addition to women's wear for fall, also show in children's clothes, in both the school sturdies and in dressy combination with ruffles and lace-trimed tops to skirts.

Miss Allsman Is Married

St. Hilary's Catholic Church in Tiburon was the setting for the marriage of Leonarda Allsman to Robert Brush at noon yesterday.

Annette Allsman of Tiburon was her sister's maid of honor. Robyn and Karen Allsman of Tiburon, the bride's sisters, and Kathleen Brush of Daly City, the bridegroom's sister, were the bridesmaids.

Michael Brush of San Francisco, the bridegroom's brother, was best man. Ron Camara of Daly City, William J. Burton of San Carlos and James W. Smith of San Mateo assisted wedding guests to their places.

A garden reception at the Tiburon home of Leonarda's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Allsman, followed the ceremony.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. William Hagan of San Francisco. She is the sister of Peter, Daniel, Marc, Kurt, Ancilla and Jerome Allsman of Tiburon, as well as the bridal attendants.

Robert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Brush of Daly City. He is a graduate of Jefferson High School in Daly City and attended the College of San Mateo. He is employed with the San Carlos Fire Department.

Leonarda is a graduate of the Drew School in San Francisco and of San Francisco State College. She is a teacher in the South San Francisco Unified School District.

After a wedding trip to Hawaii, the couple will live in San Carlos.

Confusion Of Right And Wrong

BOSTON (UPI)—The adolescents are finding it difficult to adjust to a society where "right and wrong seem to be much less definite than in the past," Dr. Calvin F. Settlage, of Temple University, told fellow psychiatrists meeting in Boston.

But the vague and inconsistent social and cultural values of modern society not only are having a significant impact on adolescents. Settlage said they also "tend to lead to a confusion of values and uncertainty on the part of parents."

One surprise in store when you buy a dress with jacket for fall and winter: A zipper instead of button closing. A number of pace-setting designers use zippers instead of buttons. Mrs. T. F. Keating Heads School Unit

"I hope to be the Grandma Moses of the piano but think my teacher has different ideas" laughs Mrs. Thomas F. Keating of San Rafael, who began with studies on piano theory, technique, harmony and ear training two years ago as an interest.

The wife of a Superior Court Judge, Margaret Keating is the new president of St. Raphael's Mothers' Guild. During her 11 years as a member of the organization she has held offices of room mother, membership chairman, salad luncheon and Christmas Bazaar chairmanships and served on the board of directors. She says the purpose of St. Raphael's Mothers' Guild is to coordinate the spiritual and educational forces of the home and school in a program of Catholic child training.

The mother of five, she is also associated with the Lawyers Wives of Marin, serving on the board of directors, and with the Marin Catholic Mothers' Club.

The Keatings are parents of Thomas F. Jr., 17; Kathleen, 15; Rich, 14; Jimmy, 12; and Suzy, 11. Maggie says, they are her main interest, consuming most of her time.

She manages to find time for other hobbies. She is a seamstress, drafting her patterns and designs when the clock permits. Cooking and collecting cook books and recipes are also a hobby, and she tests more than 100 new recipes each year. Slip-covering, unholstering, refinishing, wallpapering and painting, are other interests.

She attended the University of Michigan and has lived in Marin since her marriage 19 years ago.

POSTCARDS

Creative Displays For Tourists

By LAURA DEVENDORF

Picture postcards are the tourist's staple and he stocks up on them accordingly. But a few months ago a new line, produced by Marin couple, Pat and Ute Goggins, erupted on the local postcard scene. Even local residents are enthusiastically buying.

The explanation is that their Harlequin cards focus on the esoteric meaning of Bay Area life in an unusually creative and appealing way. Even when they show something as predictable as San Francisco's Victorian buildings they don't just record them. Instead, they emphasize their compositional elegance or their nostalgic dignity expressed in crumbling gingerbread and paint.

This artistic, noncommercial look has caught on dramatically with a card-weary public where, according to Goggins, "Word of Harlequin cards seems to be spreading by some mysterious grapevine. The scenes weren't even chosen for salability but for special interest such as the junk sculpture on the Emeryville Mud Flats."

In one of these a prehistoric bird is silhouetted against a fading evening sky. In another, a battered Napoleon stands ready to fire a log and tire cannon. While a third, which Goggins calls "a monument to the great automobile industry of America," shows a strange creature constructed from auto body parts.

The latter also illustrates one of the problems in creating postcards that are different. It's entitled, "Smog God," and yet the sky, which was murky gray in the original slide, is cerulean blue on the card.

"Most clients want it that way," he explains. "The printers heighten skies to 'postcard blue' almost automatically. Now, however, I am very specific about colors and cropping instructions and the printers do a great job."

The problem arose because the Goggins are frankly new at this. As Harlequin's sole photographer, Goggins confesses, "Before last summer I'd never even used a camera. I didn't even know how to load the film. My wife had to do it for me." Now 10 months, many slides and many solved problems later, they have an ingenuous fascination for which of the line's 30 scenes do well where.

"At the museums, he says, Victorians and the mudflat sculptures do well. At the Tides in Sausalito, San Quentin does well but they never take the churches. Selection seems more negative than anything. It's not what it is but what it isn't. They don't take what they can't identify with."

Identification comes from the real, very personal quality that threads through the series, making meaningful even such hackneyed subjects as the Golden Gate Bridge. The couple's 4-year-old son, Billy, had made a tinker toy of it and Goggins photographed the boy and his bridge against the rising massiveness of the real one.

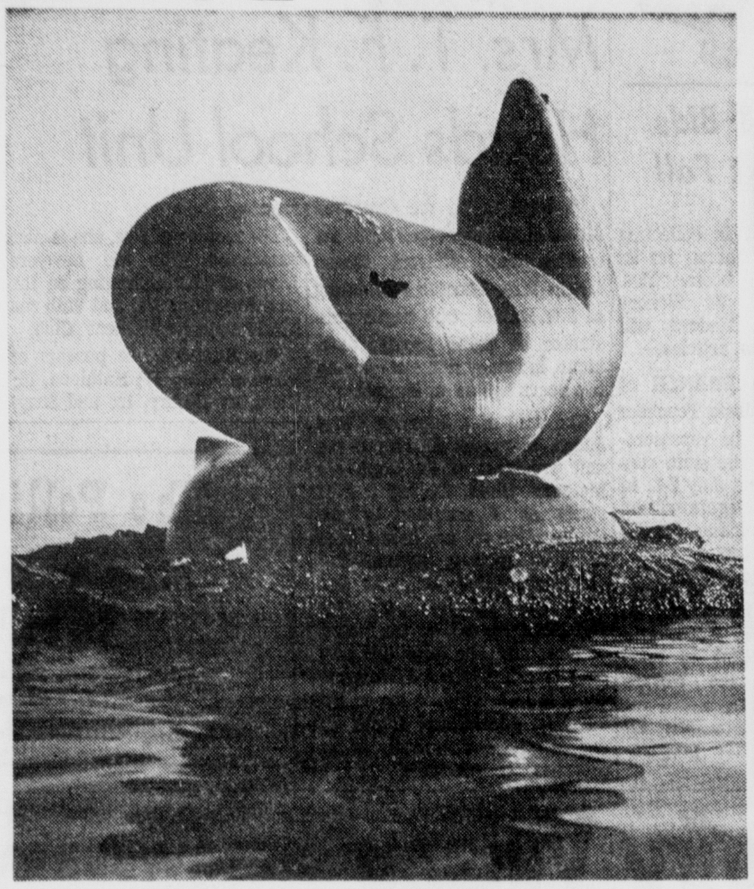
They've also lent special importance to San Francsico's buildings from the Russian Orthodox Church to the Wells Fargo building. They have caught the charm of a flower-painted station wagon and the link-fenced drabness of San Quentin. And they have magnified the importance of the area's sculpture through studies such as one of Sausalito's seal, the fluid warmth of which is frankly beautiful.

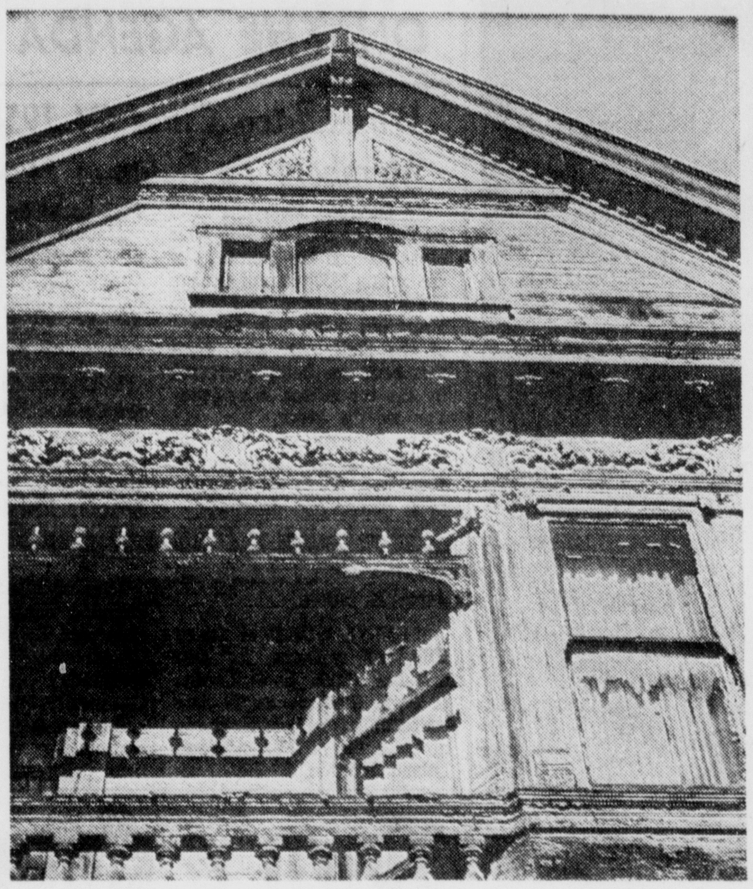
Working close-up, Goggins covers subjects quite uncommon to postcards. Cracked mud, carp and a mountain of wrecked cars are handsome photographs in themselves but they are also cryptic social messages explained through Goggins' subtle, often humorous descriptions printed on the card's letter side.

One really unique closeup is a scene resplendent with the foliage of poison oak. "That one was done as a public service," Mrs. Hoggins relates. "We both had cases and yet didn't know what to avoid. No one could actually show us what it looked like." So Goggins researched it, tracked it down and shared his revelation with the public on a picture postcard.

They can do this kind of thing because Harlequin is a sideline for Goggins who is a lawbook salesman for Bancroft-Whitney Co. They could save the trouble of distributing and servicing accounts and make much more if they accepted one of the many card company offers to take over. "Accepting a flat royalty would mean making more than we can doing it on our own," Goggins says. "But we'd lose complete control. The companies wouldn't want anything offbeat."

And their artistic independence is affording the public a brand new pleasure — cardbuying for the genuine interest in the card itself.





NEW OUTLOOK—Pat and Ute Goggins, a San Rafael couple, are making a new impression on the art scene. Most postcards simply record the existence of San Francisco's Victorians, but the couple's card line concentrates on their special dignity. Tourists and residents alike have a soft spot for Sausalito's seal, but Goggins has treated it with photographic reverence in a new postcard.

Agents Fearful Of Artificial Marijuana Use

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal narcotics agents are concerned about the possible appearance of man-made marijuana which is colorless and odorless but so powerful only two or three drops in a cigarette can produce the same kick as natural marijuana, the Washington Post said today.

"Smuggling in synthetic marijuana could make the $350 million a year heroin business look like peanuts," the paper quoted a narcotics agent as saying.

"And it would be easy," he added. "A little alcohol and some coloring and it could be brought in as after-shave lotion."

The Justice Department's Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs plans to send Congress fresh legislation to cover the sale and use of marijuana made in a laboratory, the Post said. Currently, federal law covers only natural marijuana which is grown.

Holiday Ends For The Navy

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — It's out to sea again for hundreds of Naval Academy cadets and Naval ROTC students making up part of the Midshipmen Training Squadron.

The submarine Bream, seven destroyers and the flagship Dale sailed out the Golden Gate today.

The 17-ship squadron arrived here June 27.

Later, nine ships went on to Seattle while eight remained in San Francisco for visits by the public.

The two groups will rendezvous at sea, then sail on to Hawaii.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies currently being shown in Marin County. The council's findings are from California and National P-TA magazines and the "Film Report" of the Film Estimate board of national organizations. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael or Mill Valley libraries.

FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY

"Around the World in 80 Days" — The transportation of 1872 travels from London around the world. Comedy at its merriest.

"Gentle Giant" — Seven-year-old Mark becomes passionately attached to a bear cub after its mother has been killed.

"Never a Dull Moment" —Dick Van Dyke will delight everyone as he outmaneuvers the crooks.

"Your Mine and Ours" — Widower with 10 children marries a widow with 8 children. Plot adroitly interweaving mature love with drama inherent in raising 18 children. Delightful entertainment.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Day the Fish Came Out" — Ironic Tragi-comedy built around the serious subject of two lost radioactive bombs.

"Devil's Brigade" — World War II story of the first Special Service Force. It offers a series of vivid character studies. Good solid acting, honest realism, timely, a moving experience to watch.

"Elvira Madigan" — Tragic love story in a Swedish film of rare beauty.

"Far From the Madding Crowd" — Leisurely paced love story of 1860s. Long to be remembered picture of another period. Superb photography.

"Fitzwilly" — Roguish fable done with humor and rare good fun. Not planned for the moral edification of children.

"Guess Who's Coming to Dinner" — Moving story of parents reactions to a racially mixed marriage . . . tasteful rendering of a contemporary problem.

"King of Hearts" — Witty satire of futility of war.

BORDERLINE
(Some say adults only)

"Fistful of Dollars" — Dubbed in English . . . produce in Spain. Brutal melodrama follows the routine Hollywood western plot . . . usual shooting, blood and sadism only worse.

ADULTS ONLY

"Boom" — Beautifuly scenery is wasted on this vulgar and stupid story revolving around a plump and wealthy shrew lurid life with her five husbands.

"Darling" — Satirical film traces unsavory career of playgirl who is beautiful, amoral tramp who claws her way through many escapades and marriages. Downbeat in impact, superbly photographed.

"Graduate" — This satirical comedy is subject to various interpretations. Young man from college becomes involved in a torrid affair . . . scenes of night club entertainer distasteful.

"P.J." —A story of crime, much of the action is sadistically brutal and explicit sex is extremely distasteful.

TELEVISION REVIEW

A Fresh Approach For Coming Season

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Proof that regular television series are mere fillers is found in next season's three-network schedule. Only 20 new series will be attempted by the major broadcasting organization, most of them the usual run-of-the-mill stuff. More and more energy is being directed, instead, at future and fresher forms of television.

Well, that's the optimistic way of looking at it. Until the inspiration for these newer forms finds full flower, we must steel ourselves over the summer for the annual fall deluge. Here are some of the series we can expect:

The Phyllis Diller Show. Weekly hour of variety.

"Adam-12." Half-hour program about the experiences of two squad car policemen of the Los Angeles force.

"Julia." Diahann Carroll as a young widow, a registered nurse in the health office of an industrial corporation. She has a 6-year-old son. Half-hour.

"The Outsider." Darren McGavin as a private eye. One hour.

"The Name of the Game." 90-minute series revolving around the activities of a vast publishing empire. With Robert Stack, Anthony Franciosa, Gene Barry.

"The Ghost and Mrs. Muir." Half-hour comedy about a young widow's adventures with her children and housekeeper in a home still inhabited by the spirit of its former owner, a formidable clipper ship captain. With Hope Lange and Edward Mulhare.

"Land of the Giants." Hour program about space travelers who are suddenly flung into a land in which everything is mammoth and they are tiny.

"The Outcasts." Story of the relationship of two men, one white and a former Virginia aristocrat, the other a black ex-slave who becomes a bounty hunter, in the West following the war between North and South.

Marin, Cities Sharing Two Tax Splits

Two tax distributions to Marin County and its cities were announced today by Houston I. Flournoy, state controller.

The first was the June apportionment of highway users taxes. Of the $51,495,567 distributed, Marin County received $121,604.

Amounts to cities in Marin were: Novato, $18,853; San Rafael, $23,708; San Anselmo, $8,796; Fairfax, $5,109; Ross, $2,167; Larkspur, $5,667; Corte Madera, $5,636; Mill Valley, $8,032; Tiburon, $4,288; Belvedere, $2,060; and Sausalito, $1,678.

The county received $6,144 in May cigarette tax refunds. Cities received: Novato, $4,892; San Rafael, $24,313; San Anselmo, $2,058; Fairfax, $1,010; Ross, $126; Larkspur, $1,367; Corte Madera, $6,076; Mill Valley, $2,591; Tiburon, $1,024; Belvedere, $159; Sausalito, $3,615.

A total of $6,815,579 was distributed throughout the state from the cigarette tax fund. The figure is 30 per cent of the revenue received in May.

Superintendent's Pay Hiked By Tomales Trustees

Tomales Unified School District trustees have approved an annual salary range of $20,000 to $22,000 for the new superintendent of the recently formed district.

Trustees directed acting Supt. Charles E. McCully to prepare a brochure listing specifications for the new superintendent and told to distribute the brochure as soon as possible.

Trustees, meeting Wednesday, also agreed to borrow $23,500 from the school district organization revolving fund in the state treasury to finance board operations until the district is able to collect property taxes during the 1969-70 fiscal year.

Selection of a new name for the district was delayed until the Aug. 7 meeting, McCully said. Names submitted by special advisory committee were Coastline, Coastland, Marinome, Shoreline, San Andreas, Twin Bays and Tomales Unified School District.

The next meeting of the board will be at 8 p.m. Aug. 7 at Tomales High School.

Satchmo Plays For Birthday

LONDON (AP) — Louis Armstrong celebrated his 68th birthday yesterday by showing that the years haven't dulled the sound that made him famous.

Satchmo was honored at a luncheon given by Britain's Beaverbrook newspapers and then said, "Thank you" by leading his all-stars in a swinging medley of "Hello, Dolly!" "Wonderful World" and "Sleepy Time Down South."

"My life has been all around music," said Armstrong. "I am rejoicing today."

The jazzman was presented with a sealed case containing a gold sovereign "for the king of jazz" and a gold Louis.

Fireman Killed In Truck Wreck

HEALDSBURG (AP) — An 18-year-old firefighter, Bruce Allen Micchi of Santa Rosa, was killed when a fire truck en route to a brush fire near Mount St. Helena plunged off a road and down a hill yesterday.

The driver, Mike McManus, 25, Cloverdale, and Jack Lee Nosecchi, 17, Petaluma, suffered minor injuries.

They all were stationed with the State Forest Service Division at Healdsburg.

Four aerial tankers, five trucks and 25 men held the fire to 10 acres.

Southern California Has A Jolting Fourth

SANTA BARBARA (AP) — Southern California cities were shaken by a new series of rolling earthquakes but the tremors brought reports of only minor damage.

A highway was closed temporarily by rockslides, buildings sway and windows snapped.

Seismologists said a moderate quake hit the Santa Barbara Channel at 5:36 p.m. yesterday, followed by four or five minor shocks and the main temblor at 5:45 p.m. which registered as 5 or potentially dangerous on the Richter scale.

Thirty or more aftershocks were counted in the 40 minutes following the quakes; they said.

The shocks opened cracks in highways near Santa Barbara and Carpenteria and touched off rocksides that temporarily blocked California 154 over San Marcos Pass at several locations, the highway patrol said.

In Goleta, north of Santa Barbara, residents reported canned good were knocked from shelves, plate glass windows shattered and glass goods in stores broken by the tremors.

About 60 miles northwest of Los Angeles in Ventura, residents described the quake as a sharp jolt, while citizens of nearby Camarillo likened it to a general, rolling tremor that set chairs rocking and lamps swaying.

Newsmen in the long press box above 48,497 fans attending Independence Day races at Hollywood Park race track in Inglewood; south of Los Angeles, said water sloshed from drinking jars. The ground turbulence rocked the press box for several minutes.

The quake, less acute to the east and south of Los Angeles, were reported felt as far south as Long Beach. They also were also reported felt in downtown Los Angeles and at beaches jammed by an estimated 1 million holiday bathers.

Doctor's Office Looted Of Cash

Thefts of cash from a doctor's office and of vehicle parts from a used car lot were reported yesterday by San Rafael police.

The cash, totaling $65, was reported stolen from the unlocked office of Dr. Leo Tarantino II at 1531 Fifth Avenue during the noon hour Tuesday, police said. Also taken were checks for $230.

The auto parts, a transmission and engine parts worth $300 were stolen Tuesday night from a car at G and R Motors, 3 Francisco Boulevard, police reported.

Ross Hospital Unveils New Long-Term Care Annex

By GLENN ANDERSON

A spacious, modern $800,000 hospital addition — a building meant to provide long-term treatment for persons recovering from acute illness or injury and to relieve congestion at Marin County's general hospitals — will open Monday.

The 72-bed Ross General Hospital addition, the first such facility in Marin County directly related to a general hospital, is located on a tree-shaded site across Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from the hospital in Kentfield.

County supervisors, Southern Marin mayors, and officials of health agencies in the county toured the just completed three-story building today following a luncheon. There will be an open house for the general public Sunday from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Dr. John C. Siemens, hospital administrator, said treatment will be for patients such as these:

Someone who has had a stroke and has recovered from the acute phase but now requires training of muscles through physical and occupational therapy.

A patient who has had extensive surgery and now needs an extended period of convalescence requiring nursing care and various types of therapy.

A heart attack victim who has recovered from acute illness but now requires a period of gradually increasing activity.

Dr. Marjorie E. Belknap, medical director of the unit, who will head a staff of 35, said, "New surgical procedures and new controls over disease have resulted in more patients surviving what, until now, have been fatal illnesses.

"But sometimes there is a loss of such self-care activities as bathing, eating and dressing. The goal of rehabilitation is to restore basic skills and enable the patient to resume, as nearly as possible, normal activities."

Congestion at Ross and at Marin General hospitals will be relieved, Siemens said, because "many patients who have formerly remained in general hospitals longer than was necessary because no facility like this was available will, we anticipate, be transferred here."

Patients will undergo treatment in serene surroundings, Siemens pointed out.

Large windows in each room offer views of surrounring mountains and trees, as do outdoor patio decks on each floor.

Unique among trees on the site, he said, is a large Italian chestnut tree planted by early Ross Valley settlers, one of the few remaining such trees in the county.

All rooms are equipped with television sets operated by remote control by patients and electrically operated beds geared so the patient can raise and lower the bed from the floor or raise and lower the head or foot of the bed.

Modern equipment includes a circo-electric bed which revolves a patient vertically while he is held in place so that nurses need not go through the painful procedure of turning him over on his back or stomach.

An automatic drug dispensing machine measures and regularly dispenses a fresh supply of medicine for each patient.

There are eight private rooms and 32 semi-private rooms, all arranged, Siemens said, "so that the patient has the maximum of privacy."

Fees, he said, will range from $32 to $36 a day, compared to $45 to $50 in general hospitals. Patients will be eligible for medicare financial support if they have been transferred from a general hospital.

The addition, bringing the number of beds to 235, is opening shortly after the hospital celebrated the 50th anniversary of its founding in June 1918 as a 19-bed sanitarium, making it the only private hospital in the county which has been operating for 50 years.

Car Hits Pole; Injuries Minor

A 16-year-old El Cerrito girl suffered minor injuries yesterday when the car in which she was riding went off a curve of the Bolinas-Olema Road and sheared off a telephone pole.

Virginia E. Stewart was treated at Marin General Hospital for cuts on her left knee and right thigh.

Driver of the car, Joseph J. Stewart, 63, of El Cerrito, apparently fell asleep at the wheel, causing the accident at 10:05 p.m. a mile north of Bolinas, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Damage to the utility pole did not affect service to homes in the area, according to Steven C. Kanewske, Southern Marin manager for Pacific Telephone.

Woman Leaps From Her Porch

A Mill Valley woman jumped from the second story porch of an apartment building in Corte Madera last night after she learned her boy friend was leaving her, police reported.

Admitted to Marin General Hospital with fractured ribs and a fractured right arm was Christine Rauls, 26, of 32 Plymouth Avenue. Miss Rauls is in fair condition in the hospital's psychiatric ward, a hospital spokesman reported today.

Corte Madera Police Chief Frank Nelson said Miss Rauls jumped from the back porch of a building at 34 Edison Avenue at 10 p.m. yesterday and landed 25 feet below near 37 Corte Madera Avenue.

Bagley Actively Supporting Nixon

Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, today said he is actively backing the presidential candidacy of Richard M. Nixon.

Bagley supported Gov. Nelson Rockefeller four years ago in California's primary against Sen. Barry Goldwater.

The assemblyman, who is not a member of the California delegation pledged to Gov. Ronald Reagan, said he will be a member of a statewide executive committee supporting Nixon.

Dr. Gaylord Parkinson of San Diego, immediate past chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, will be the chairman of the committee, said Bagley.

Bagley said he was "the first and probably still the only Republican legislator in California who has openly supported Richard Nixon." He said that he also has joined a nationwide group of GOP legislators backing Nixon.

Asked if he will vote for State Supt. of Public Instruction Max Rafferty for the U.S. Senate, Bagley said he would, but will not have time to campaign for him.

"I'll be very busy campaigning for Nixon," said Bagley, adding he is planning to go to the GOP national convention in Miami "to be of assistance to the former vice president.

Bagley was a strong supporter of Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, unseated by Rafferty in last month's primary election.

Commute Tax Decision Expected From San Francisco Committee

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A city payroll tax on commuters proposed by Mayor Joseph L. Alioto is expected to be acted upon within two weeks by the board of supervisors finance committee, which ended its public hearings on the tax Wednesday.

Alioto has proposed a 1 per cent payroll tax to raise $13.8 million from commuters, and a gross receipts tax to raise $18 to $20 million from business.

The property tax rate would have to be hiked about $2 to finance the city's record $484 million budget if his proposed taxes are not levied, the mayor predicted.

"These bedroom areas," Alioto told the committee, "are taking advantage of artificial boundaries while the city takes charge of social and economic problems which the exodus to the suburbs has helped create."

If the tax is enacted, it faces a certain legal test.

The Legislature has approved a bill to prevent the commuter tax unless it also applied to San Francisco residents. Gov. Ronald Reagan has not indicated whether he will sign the bill, which Alioto says will have no effect because San Francisco is a charter city with distinct powers of legislation, not a general law city under the state.

Marin supervisors have gone on record against the tax.

Flare Tossing Booking Made

Gary Charles Ringen, 19, was booked in County Jail by sheriff's officers today on a felony charge of throwing a lighted flare into a car at Golden Gate Baptist Seminary in Strawberry June 9.

Ringen, of 670 Redwood Highway, Mill Valley, was scheduled for arraignment in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon. Officers said he allegedly tossed the flare into a car owned by the seminary and parked in a seminary lot.

Flames damaged upholstery on the rear seat, they said. Reason for the action was unknown, deputies added.

CROWDED — St. Andrew United Presbyterian Church and the Maringate Nursery School in Marin City want to enlarge their crowded playground, but don't have all the equipment to do it. (Independent-Journal photo)

BUILDING CROWDED

Children's Center Materials Sought

Marin City's only supervised play area for children under 8 is overcrowded and building materials are being sought to expand it.

The playground is near the southern end of St. Andrew United Presbyterian Church at Drake Avenue and Donahue Street is operated by the church and Maringate Nursery School.

The church recently appealed for help, in a letter read from the pulpits of other area churches:

"Often 35 children or more play in a yard built for less than half the number, and there is no equipment for toddlers. The result: overcrowding, competition for swings between older and younger children and an impossible burden on the playground supervisor."

The supervisor, Mrs. Ethel Perry, is paid by the county through the community services district under an arrangement with the county parks and recreation department. A condition in the agreement was that the church and nursery school would improve facilities.

"We propose enlarging the playground to almost three times its present size and installing equipment for older children," the appeal said.

"In the past, churches have raised money for stained glass windows. This is a time in history for churchgoers to contribute 15 yards of fence for children, instead of memorial windows."

Donations of lumber and concrete and offers of volunteer labor and the services of an architect have already resulted.

"We still need a lot more materials," said Harry Bailey, major gifts chairman of St. Andrew. "Tanbark, asphalt paving, hardware and fence boards are high on our list, not to mention some imaginative play equipment for the children."

Rev. James E. Symons, co-pastor of St. Andrew, said the fence boards are needed by July 13 because volunteers are to start work then.

A bulldozer also is needed to clear some land.

Recreation programs for older Marin City youth are conducted at the Manzanita Community Center and the Southern Marin Boys' Club.

A Comeback

NEW DELHI (AP) — An irritated British citizen complained in a New Delhi court that a matter which would have been settled in two days in England had taken two months to resolve in India. The magistrate replied "Before you came to India and gave us this complicated legal structure, we were settling these things in two hours."

Marin Among Leaders In Commuting

Of the nine Bay Area counties, Marin and San Mateo have the highest percentage of commuters, according to a survey conducted by the Bay Area Transportation Study Commission.

Out of Marin's total work force of 69,790 persons, only 37,940, or 54 per cent, work within Marin, and the rest are commuters. The bulk of those commuters—27,170, or 39 per cent of the total work force — commute to San Francisco.

The remainder of Marin's working population is employed in other counties as follows: Alameda, 1,490; Contra Costa, 740; Napa, 20; San Mateo, 1,060; Santa Clara, 310; Solano, 300, and Sonoma, 400. In addition, 360 Marin residents are employed outside the nine Bay Area counties.

The most sedentary working population is in San Francisco, where 87 per cent work within the county. Santa Clara and Sonoma have 86 per cent of the work force employed in their own counties. Alameda has 81 per cent working "at home," Solano 80 per cent, Napa 69 per cent, Contra Costa 59 per cent, and Marin and San Mateo 54 per cent.

Vietnam Pilots Flee The South

SAIGON (AP) — The Vietnamese command said today two Vietnamese pilots have flown craft to Cambodian sanctuary after being disciplined for illegal acts. It said they were not political defectors.

The statement followed a Cambodian radio station's report that the men were seeking political asylum.

A Vietnamese military statement said both pilots had been accused of using their aircraft for "illegal transportation." One had been reduced in rank from lieutenant to sergeant and the other ordered held in his present grade of lieutenant for at least five years.

The pilots flew to Cambodia in a helicopter and a light reconnaissance plane, both given to Vietnam by the United States.

Apartment Unit Permit Is Denied

Sausalito planning commissioners have turned down a request to add 21 units to a partially constructed apartment house on Lincoln Way in the Marina Vista subdivision.

Commissioners unanimously denied the request by developer Loyal Davis of Mill Valley to amend a previously granted use permit to increase the density of the apartment building from 15 to 36 units.

Davis told the commission Wednesday he would add a wing to the building rather than increase its height above the already approved 50 feet.

Construction on the concrete building was started several years ago but halted when the first of several developers of the Marina Vista subdivision went broke. The original plan for the building called for a nine-story structure on the top of the Sausalito hill adjacent to Highway 101. Subsequently the city council amended the apartment plans to allow a 50-foot building with only 15 units.

The Sausalito planning commission also:

VARIANCE—Approved a variance application by David Weinstein to enclose an open area and construct a breakfast room at his home at 89 Spencer Avenue.

USE PERMIT —Approved the renewal of a use permit for one year for the United Sand and Gravel Co. in Marinship to conduct a sand and gravel operation in open area and waterfront zones.

AMENDMENT — Refused to amend the zoning ordinance to allow eating and drinking establishments with entertainment and/or dancing as conditionally permitted uses in the central and industrial commercial zones.

DUMP — Agreed to recommend to the county that the proposed Tennessee Valley dump opposite the entrance to Marincello be approved.

REPORT — Heard a report from Jack Schoop, planner for the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission, on the preliminary bay plan. Schoop said the plan calls for minor filling of the Sausalito waterfront to "tidy up but not change" the shoreline.

Lawyer Honored

$256,363 Grant To Help Staff Mental Center

A $256,363 federal grant to help staff Marin's Community Mental Health Center has been approved by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, it was reported today.

Dr. Clyde G. Miller, director of the county's community mental health services department, said he received confirmation of the approval from Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District.

The supplemental grant is for the period from Aug. 1 this year through July 31, 1969, Dr. Miller said.

This is the third fiscal year that federal staffing grants have been approved for Marin County, he noted.

The grant will permit the staffing of in-patient and partial hospitalization services in the new center nearing completion at Marin General Hospital, said Dr. Miller.

Eyes On S.F. In Grid Strike Buzz

The strike—if there is one—of the National Football League Players Association now has reached the wait-and-see stage.

"Nobody is on strike now," veteran tackle Alex Karras said in Detroit.

"We won't know until Sunday when San Francisco goes into camp if there's a strike at all.

"All of the players will be on strike if there is no settlement before next week."

John Gordy, president of the Players Association, is maintaining official silence, but scores of players have said they received telegrams from him ordering them not to report until negotiations can be worked out with the owners.

The only official comment since the break-up of a meeting between player representatives and an owners group last weekend came from Art Modell, NFL president.

He said the players had rejected the owner's offer, particularly in the area of improved pension benefits. They apparently agreed on most, if not all, other points.

San Francisco has the first camp opening—for rookies Sunday. Rookies are not members of the Players Association.

Nineteen veteran members of the 49ers, including Howard Mudd, Bruce Bosley, Ken Willard and Joe Cerne, said they would not report at that time.

Veterans were scheduled to report the following week.

Detroit opens its rookie camp July 9, with Detroit and Green Bay scheduled the following day.

San Francisco owner Lou Spadia, however, said he did not think a strike would take place.

"I'm optimistic that it can be settled quickly," he said.

Gordy, however, has declined comment on whether future talks between player representatives and owners are scheduled.

How Candlestick Robbed Mays Out Of 50 Homers

It isn't an exaggeration to say that Willie Mays lost six homers a season since Candlestick Park was opened in 1960. As a matter of fact it is easy to pinpoint half a dozen that Candlestick's left field wind held up this year. And this season isn't half over yet.

So a conservative estimate of homers deprived Mays over nine seasons in Candlestick would be 50. Even with an additional 50 homers on his career total, Mays still would be substantially behind Babe Ruth's all-time mark of 714.

Mays started the 1968 campaign with a total of 564 homers. Going into the final week of the first half of the season he had a total of 12 homers, boosting his career mark to 576. Thus, an additional 50 would give him 626 but still leave him 88 behind Ruth's record.

Never Believed He'd Catch Ruth

However, Willie never did believe that he would come close to Ruth's mark even after he broke his own home run record of 51, hit in 1955. Mays hit 52 in 1965 and that's when the talk started about Willie catching the Babe.

Mays allowed that he probably would catch all of the others and he has since passed them. But every time Ruth's record was mentioned Willie would say "Man, that's impossible."

Now, with time running out on him, even the most ardent of Mays' fans who believed Willie could do the impossible are ready to accept the inevitable.

Oh, Those Might-Have-Been HRs

To his credit Mays never once mentioned directly or indirectly the handicap Candlestick's wind put on him. He never mention the "might-have-been" homers. There undoubtedly were times when he wanted to rap Candlestick but he never did.

Mays never shook his head in resigned disbelief when a well tagged shot to left was held up at the warning track by the wind for a loud out. Pros might not like their home lot but they don't knock it publicly.

Almost without exception every righthand slugger visiting Candlestick has been robbed of at least one homer by the wind. Unlike Mays, they haven't hesitated to rap the park.

Aaron's Liner Just A Loud Out

Hank Aaron didn't criticize Candlestick with words the other night when the wind held up a liner he launched to left. Had it stayed low it would have cleared the fence. But it began rising into the wind.

Aaron didn't verbally disclose his displeasure. However, as he pulled up at first base when Jim Ray Hart caught the ball a step in front of the fence, Aaron shook his head.

Mays, in centerfield, never misses little incidents like that. A press box observer quickly zeroed in on Mays with binoculars. Willie was smiling.

Laver Triumphs At Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Rod Laver of Australia won Wimbledon's first open men's singles title with a 6-3, 6-4, 6-2 victory today over Tony Roche, also of Australia.

Both finalists are left-handers and professionals — Laver with George McCall's group and Roche with Lamar Hunt's "Handsome Eight."

Laver, twice a Wimbledon winner in his amateur days, was top-seeded. Roche, whose first Wimbledon final was this one, was seeded 15th of the 16 seeds this year.

A packed crowd of 17,000 saw Laver gradually get a grip on the match in the style that won him his last title here seven years ago.

Roche played a more consistent game, but Laver produced the flashes of genius that won the big points.

At first it looked as though Laver might have a close match on his hands. Roche won his first three service games at love and came within a point of breaking Laver in the fifth game. But with a 4-3 lead, Laver unleashed two backhand service returns and lured Roche into errors, then hit a forehand pass to lead 40-15 against service.

Roche double-faulted for the only time in the match and lost the game.

He had three points for a break back in the next game, but Laver served and volleyed his way out of trouble and wrapped up the first set. From then on, it was all downhill for the No. 1 pro.

The second set followed a similar pattern. Roche stayed level to 3-3 and dropped only two points in his first three service games.

Again Laver struck suddenly. In the seventh game, he fired a series of returns—two forehands and two backhands — and broke through.

Any hopes Roche had of staging a recovery were quickly dashed when Laver ran up a 4-0 lead in the third set.

Laver finished off the match in exactly one hour.

There's a 50-50 chance that the women's first prize of $1,800 will go back into the pot. The final will be played Sunday between the defending champion, Mrs. Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., who is under contract to MacCall and is going for the prize, and Australian amateur Judy Tegart, who is competing for expenses only.

Mrs. King overcame her old professional rival, Mrs. Ann Jones of Britain, 4-6, 7-5, 6-2 Thursday.

Miss Tegart upset United States Wightman Cup star Nancy Richey of San Angelo, Tex., 6-3, 6-1.

Skidding A's Battle Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—The Oakland Athletics, pounded by last year's American League champion Boston Red Sox, now stagger into the den of this year's runaway leader with the hope of proving that seven will not be their unlucky number.

The Athletics dropped their sixth straight game yesterday and their fourth straight to Boston, 7-2.

Jim Hunter, 6-5, tries to halt the skid tonight against Mickey Lolich, 6-4, of the Detroit Tigers.

The Athletics preceded their losing streak by winning four or five at home and Manager Bob Kennedy warned that the road trip would be one of their most important of the year. They began the road trip challenging for third place but immediately stepped to the rear and now find themselves in sixth.

For the second time in the series, southpaw Juan Pizarro turned in an outstanding relief job for the Red Sox and drove in two runs.

Pizarro, 1-0, took over for starter Jose Santiago in the fourth inning and after control trouble, held Oakland to just one hit and struck out seven.

He drove in a run in the fourth off loser Jim Odom, 7-5, as the Red Sox broke a 2-2 tie and then brought in another score in the three-run sixth with a sacrifice fly.

The Athletics got their runs in the third as Dave Duncan led off with his second homer, a solo blast into the screen in left center. Pizarro then tossed a bases loaded wild pitch after John Donaldson had doubled and two walks filled the bases.

Packer Star Thurston Hangs It Up

GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI)—One of the most familiar pictures in the National Football League—barrel-chested No. 63 clearing the way for a Green Bay Packer ball carrier—won't be snapped any more.

Fred "Fuzzy" Thurston, who played no high school football but became one of the best pulling guards in NFL history during nine high-riding years with the Packers, announced his retirement yesterday.

"This is truly the turning point in my life—turning from a Packer player to a Packer fan," said the 33-year-old Thurston. "Anybody got a ticket for the opener?"

He plans to devote full time to his flourishing restaurant business. He operates steak houses in nearby Menasha, Appleton and Manitowoc, and plans to open new ones here and in Fond Du Lac.

Thurston never played high school football, because the school he attended in Altoona, Wis., didn't have a team. But he starred at Valparaiso University and later became the only NFL player to be a member of six championship teams — with the Baltimore Colts in 1958 and the Packers in 1961, 1962, 1965, 1966 and 1967.

Thurston is the second member of the world champs to retire since the end of the 1967 season. The other was end Max McGee, a partner in Thurston's restaurant enterprises.

ASSAULTING BATTERY — San Francisco catcher Dick Dietz and pitcher Frank Linzy exchange congratulations after they led the Giants to 6-4 victory over the Atlanta Braves at Candlestick Park yesterday. Dietz drove in four runs while Linzy picked up his fourth victory with four innings of scoreless relief and snuffed a bases-loaded Atlanta threat in the ninth inning by starting off a double-play. Giants Try To Stop Card Runaway In Crucial Series

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Giants, the National League's most successful team against St. Louis, will attempt to break the Cardinals' mid-season runaway in a three-game series starting tonight.

Manager Herman Franks' Giants lost ground to the world champions by splitting four games with the Atlanta Braves while the Cards were sweeping a four-game set with Los Angeles.

McCORMICK TO GO

But the Giants' 4-2 record with St. Louis indicates San Francisco may be able to narrow the 8½-game gap between second and first place before the teams take the annual All-Star break next week.

The Giants will use left-hander Mike McCormick, 6-11, in an effort to snap St. Louis' six game win streak.

Southpaw Steve Carlton, 8-4, will start for the Cards. Saturday's nationally televised game matches ace right-handers Juan Marichal, 13-3, and Bob Gibson, 10-4. Gaylord Perry, 7-5, and Larry Jaster, 5-4, conclude the series.

"We've shown we can beat the Cardinals," said Franks. "There's no reason for me to feel they have the pennant sewed up."

DIETZ STARS

Franks' troubles haven't been against the contenders. After yesterday's 6-4 win. The Giants were 20-16 against first-division clubs; only 22-23 against the last five teams.

The victory raised San Francisco's edge to 6-4 over the Braves and pulled the club into a second-place tie with Atlanta.

San Francisco catcher Dick Dietz led the Giants' attack, driving in four runs on a double and a two-run home run to give reliever Frank Linzy, 4-6, the victory.

"I've never hit a ball any harder," said Dietz, who smashed a 400-foot blast over the screen in left-center after Jim Hart doubled in the seventh. The blows came off loser George Stone, 0-1.

Dietz snapped a 4-4 tie and rewarded Linzy for his four scoreless innings of relief after starter Ray Sadecki and reliever Lindy McDaniel had less success.

Fast Bill Yarborough Takes Firecracker 500

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — For William Caleb Yarborough speed is a way of life—the normal, slow way of doing things just doesn't agree with this son of a South Carolina tobacco farmer.

Yarborough—just "Cale" to fans of late model stock car racing—fractured the auto racing record book yesterday when he breezed to a 167.247 miles an hour victory in an accident-free Firecracker 400.

That's about 14 miles an hour faster than it has ever been done before and eclipses all-time race records at Daytona and even Indianapolis.

Cale's reaction? A smile on his boyish face and a prediction that he'll snap the magic 190 m.p.h. mark in qualifying here next February if the rules aren't changed on him.

But it is not just at the wheel of his Mercury — which easily outpaces the two-engine plane Cale pilots — that Cale Yarborough dwells on speed.

The 29-year-old has a young dry cleaning business even that sideline business pushes speed under the name "60-Minute Dry Cleaners."

His pit crew tops the 22-gallon gas tank and changes two tires in about 18-seconds.

Journeymen Golfers Have Buick Golf Lead

GRAND BLANC, Mich. (AP) — A couple of journeyman pros with only two PGA tournament victories between them shared the lead going into today's second round of the $125,000 Buick Open Golf Tournament.

Rod Funseth of San Jose, Calif., and Butch Baird of Carlton Oaks, Calif., carved four-under-par 68s out of the long-playinng 7,001-yard par-72 Warwick Hills Golf and Country Club course Thursday.

Bunched tightly one stroke off the pace were long-hitting Marty Fleckman, South African Harold Henning, Rod Horn of Overland Park, Kan., and Don Feirfield of Palm Springs, Calif.

Defending champion Julius Boros and U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino were with a group of 10 others two strokes behind the leaders.

Baird, a 31-year-old, nine-year veteran of the pro tour, had a chance to grab the lead on his closing hole but turned in his only bogey of the day to back into a tie with Funseth.

Baird, who earned his way through college by working in Texas oil refineries, had sunk a breaking 18-foot birdie putt on his 17th hole to go five under par. But he three-putted the 415-yard, par-4 ninth closing hole for a bogey after his second shot luckily hit a tree and fell 65 feet from the cup.

"I mishit a seven-iron," said Baird. "It was worst hit of the day. I got a good break and should have parred the hole."

Asked if he had adjusted his game to improve his score, he cracked: "Yeah, I'm trying to shoot lower scores." Then he added with a sarcastic grin, "I didn't want the lead. I wanted to share it."

49ERS TRADE STICKLES; MAY LOSE PARKS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers of the National Football League have traded veteran tight end Monty Stickles to New Orleans and may lose former star pass catcher Dave Parks to the same club.

General Manager Jack White confirmed today that Stickles has been traded to the Saints, but declined to say for whom. The Saints are to report that.

Saint quarterback Bill Kilmer, a former 49er, said his club is dickering with Parks, who played out his option with the 49ers last season and is a free agent.

The 49ers still are negotiating with Parks, who has said he would sign for the best offer.

Alston Has Hitting Woes

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Manager Walter Alston says there's nothing wrong with the Los Angeles Dodgers that can't be cured by hitting help from Ron Fairly, Jim Lefebvre, Willie Davis and Zoilo Versalles.

"If those four were hitting the way they should be, we would be in pretty good shape—we'd be at least four or five games over .500," Alston said yesterday after St. Louis handed the Dodgers their fourth straight defeat, 3-2. The series marked the first time the Dodgers have lost as many as four in a row all year.

"The pitching has been good and the defense is better than it was last year," Alston said, "But the problems are obvious. We don't have speed or power and we don't hit for a high average."

"I can't bench the whole ball club," said Alston. He added that he is elated over the performances of two former San Francisco Giants, catcher Tom Haller and left fielder Len Gabrielson.

The Cards won yesterday's game in the eighth inning when Mike Shannon broke a 1-1 tie with a two-run homer off loser Claude Osteen, 7-11. The blast, Shannon's 11th of the year, followed a single by Julian Javier.

San Rafael's Braves Home For Weekend

Taking a bye from their Western Baseball Association pennant chase, the Litchfield Braves return to the friendly confines of San Rafael's Albert Field tonight and tomorrow for non-league contests.

Tonight at 8 o'clock it's the Braves vs. next season's University of San Francisco varsity nine. Manager Joe Anselmo has selected veteran righthander Ben Trujillo to open on the mound for San Rafael.

Tomorrow the Pinole Indians will invade the Braves' stamping grounds for an 8 p.m. tilt. Greg Tellis will start on the mound for San Rafael.

Sunday the Braves trek to Yountville to meet the Merchants of that community.

Meanwhile, Anselmo has filed a formal protest with the WBA commissioner's office against a controversial balk call that enabled Eureka to defeat San Rafael last weekend, sweeping the three-game series and tightening the WBA race. San Rafael presently tops the standing with a 13-4 won-lost record, followed by Eureka, 10-4.

Fireworks In A. L.

The Great Hit Famine took a back seat yesterday to an old fashioned Fourth of July fireworks show of home runs in Detroit.

Jim Northrup, Norm Cash and Don Mincher took turns hitting baseballs out of sight and when they were through, the Tigers had a 13-10 victory over California.

It was the fourth straight triumph for the Tigers and ninth in the last 10 games, giving them an 8½ game lead over the rest of the American League.

Northrup and Cash had two homers each for the Tigers and Mincher two for the Angels. Willie Horton and Bill Freehan also connected for Detroit and Jim Fregosi for California as the two teams used up 11 pitchers.

Elsewhere in the American League, Baltimore edged Chicago 4-3 in 12 innings, Cleveland dropped Minnesota 6-3, Boston defeated Oakland 7-2 and Washington whipped New York 4-2.

The Angels scored four fast runs in the second inning with Mincher tagging his first homer and it looked like it might be a good day for Bill Rigney's club.

But the Tigers bounced right back with their biggest inning of the year, scoring nine runs in the bottom of the second with homers by Cash, Freehan and Horton leading the attack.

The six homers tied a Detroit club record and gave the team 93 homers for the year—26 of them against California.

Brooks Robinson tagged a pair of homers for the Orioles but Baltimore didn't beat the White Sox until the 12th when Fred Valentine led off with a triple and then strolled home following two intentional walks and one unintentional one.

Ed Stroud slashed two doubles and two triples and scored twice, leading Washington past the Yankees. The four hits gave Stroud 11 hits in 21 at bats against the Yankees this season.

SUSIE BERNING
Husband beats her

Unknown? Has Ladies Open Lead

READING, Pa. (AP) — Mrs. Susie Maxwell Berning had little chance to brag about the two-under-par 69 which gave her the lead after the first round of the 16th annual U.S. Women's Open Golf Championship.

Her husband of seven weeks quickly brought her out of the clouds by disclosing he had to stop playing golf with his bride because he consistently defeated her and deflated her ego.

Dale Berning is a 6-handicap golfer who is in the real estate development business in Nevada. He was a one-man gallery yesterday as his wife charged around the tough, 6,232-yard Moselem Springs Golf Club course to gain a one-stroke lead over four-time national champion Mickey Wright.

WHO'S MRS. BERNING

"We picked up a few people on the last six holes," said the 29-year-old Berning, "but most of the spectators appeared to be asking 'Who is Mrs. Berning?' and figuring she'd fold."

They apparently forgot that Mrs. Berning was the same Susie Maxwell who tied for second in last year's Open, two strokes behind winner Catherine LaCoste of France.

The 33-year-old Miss Wright, all-time leading money winner among distaff golfers, shot a 34-36—70 in her bid for an unprecedented fifth national title. She won in 1958, 1959, 1961 and 1964.

IT'S A LONG WAY

American League 'Star' Lineup Is Puzzling

OAKLAND — Harold Stassen must be applauding this year's American League all-star team. It makes as much sense as his presidential candidacy.

All their years in Kansas City, the A's usually landed the mandatory one player on the Stars. Midway through their first year in Oakland, they've got three on the team, which should give you some idea of the group the A.L. will field in Houston on Tuesday.

Funny thing is, one of the A's selected by Manager Dick Williams of Boston should have been elected by his colleagues. That would be Rick Monday. He's a center fielder. The A.L. Stars need one. They're starting with three left fielders, which should make things a little crowded out there.

To pursue the point, one of those left fielders belongs at first base, although the team's starting catcher could just as easily play first.

Some team. Stars?

THREE OF THEM got the nod or reputation only, which leads one to believe LBJ should ask Congress to disenfranchise ballplayers while they're enfranchising 18 year olds.

Shortstop Jim Fregosi, third baseman Brooks Robinson and first baseman Harmon Killebrew are having deplorable years. Killebrew was hitting all of .116 when the ballot count was announced. A guy who got two votes as first baseman is now leading the league in hitting. His name is Ken Harrelson, except he's now regularly playing right field for Boston.

BUT HARRELSON will make the team as a reserve outfielder. That's nice. A potential batting champion belongs on al all-star team.

But back to first, a cascade of confusion. Bill Freehan, who will catch, was playing first the day the team was announced. It's fortunate he is now once again catching. The practice for the Star game will do him good.

FRANK HOWARD, one of the team's three left fielders, could play first and thus alleviate the potential traffic jam in the outfield. The Gentle Giant would do the team great good at first, or at least less harm than in the Dome outfield pasture. He already has played several games at first for Washington this season.

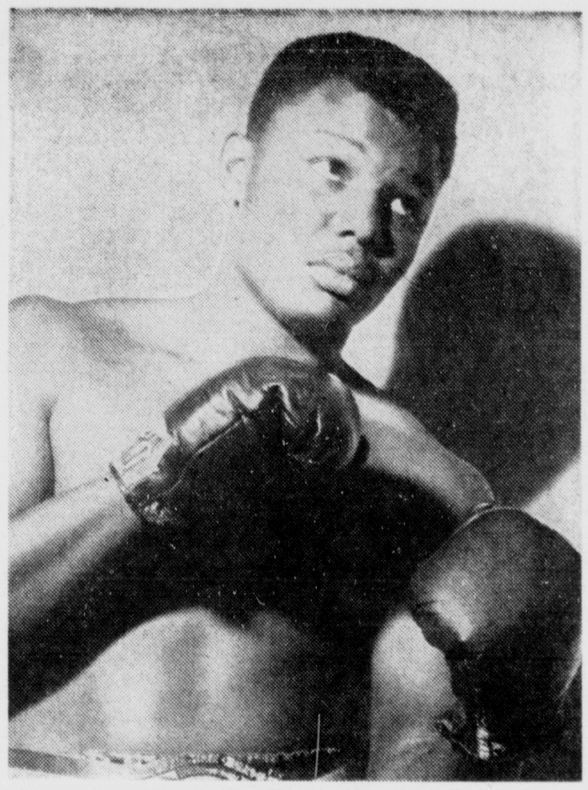
It might be practical to have Killebrew, Howard and Freehan play first when Willie McCovey bats for the National Leaguers. Plus reserve infielder Bert Campaneris of the A's; Campy has played all positions and is least outhitting Killebrew by about 25 points.

AND IF RESERVES Mickey Mantle, Boog Powell and Harrelson get in the game at the same time as Killebrew, Howard, Freehan and Campy are around, Manager Williams would have the finest First Base All-Star Team in the sport's history. It would be like the year the fans picked the team and eight guys from Cincinnati were voted to starting spots.

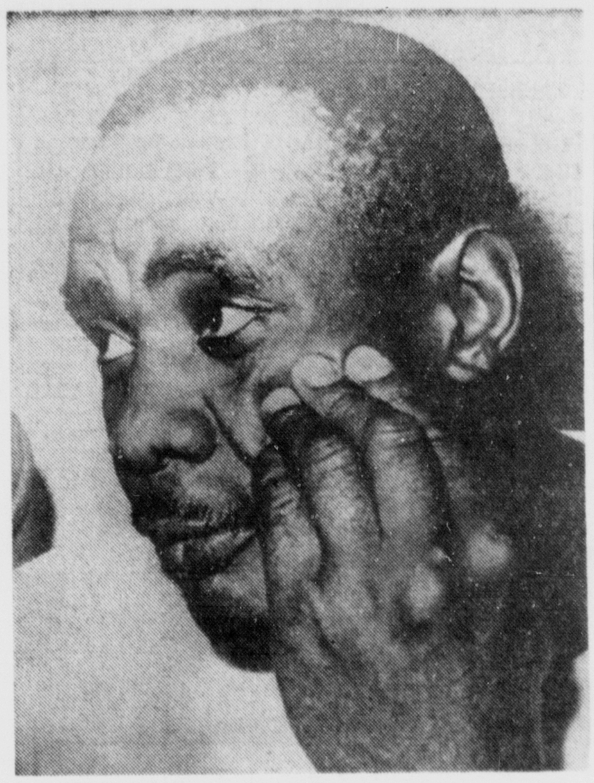
But in this season when, it appears, nobody in the American League will hit over .300, anything goes. Including the selection of A's pitcher Blue Moon Odom.

OH, THE Moon deserves a nod all right. But why not Oakland's Jim Nash, whose earned run average, shutout total and strikeout rate surpass Moon's? Or Catfish Hunter, who at least pitched a perfect game and has a good track record as an all star? Well, Dick Williams is not a genius at handling pitchers anyway. If you'll recall, he dumped pitching coach Sal Maglie as soon as Sal helped the Bosox win the '67 pennant.

MAYBE THE junior circuit's best bet this year is to field 25 pitchers. They are, after all, making the big news of 1968. Many of them hit with as much consistency as this season's hitters, and several of them can play first base.



HEAVYWEIGHT DATE—California State heavyweight champion Henry Clark (left) and former world champ Sonny Liston will square off at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Cow Palace.



Same Old Liston Sees A Knockout

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Heavyweight Henry Clark said today, "I'll wait and see what he does" in his 12-round, nationally televised fight tomorrow with Sonny Liston.

Liston says he'll knock out Clark "long before the seventh round."

"I'll have my bags packed and be on the plane by then," said the one-time world's boxing champion who appeared on a television show taped for airing tonight.

"I've learned a lesson," Liston said, referring to his two losses to Cassius Clay.

"The first fight, I played him cheap. I didn't train like I should. The second fight, I overdid it, trained too hard.

HE MAY QUIT

"I left the fight in the gym, like a race horse if you run him too hard before the race, there's nothing left in him."

Liston, who now fights out of Las Vegas, Nev., repeated he plans to quit boxing if he loses.

The fight is scheduled for shortly after 2 p.m.—5 p.m. EDT—in the 15,000-seat Cow Palace.

If Clark, 23, follows manager Joe Herman's advice, he will try to "make Liston miss you a few times" with his power-packed blows "and he'll wear himself out."

Herman doesn't think 36-year-old Liston can last long if the pace is fairly fast and he wastes strength in punches that don't land.

Clark, a San Franciscan ranked No. 5 by the World Boxing Association, said, "I plan to stay in close for seven rounds. I think he'll tire in that time. Then I'll try for a knockout."

Clark is not a kayo specialist. His record is 15-3-2 with only two knockouts. Critics say he lacks a killer instinct.

Liston is 39-3 with 29 knockouts.

They expected to weigh in at about 218 each.

Americans Star In International Track Meet

PARIS (AP) — Americans won five of the nine events in an international track and field meet yesterday while France's Jean Wadoux stamped himself as a man to watch in the Olympic 1,500 meters.

Wadoux ran the fastest 1,500 meters in the world this year—3:37.9—on a slow cinder track. Tom Von Ruden of Los Angeles was second in 3:40.1. Wadoux' time was roughly equivalent to a 3:54.9 mile.

American winners were Lee Evans of San Jose State in the 400 meters, 47.3; Bob Seagren of Southern California in the pole vault, 17-¾; John Carlos, Santa Clara Valley Youth Village, in the 200-meter dash, 20.2; Russ Rogers, New York, in the 400-meter hurdles, 51 seconds, and Dave Maggard, Santa Clara VYV, 63-10½ in the shot put.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER

When the bowling ball is thrown far out on the alley, it won't spin at impact. Thus fewer pins will fall. Lofting can be caused by bad timing; that is, the bowler reaches the foul line before he's ready to release, so he must pitch the ball to get it going. Your left foot, right hand (and ball) should arrive simultaneously at the line.

Ex-Umpire Dies

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — John A. Quinn, a former American League baseball umpire, died yesterday in Chestnut Hill Hospital. He was 70.

July Four Attendance Takes Dip

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Attendance at major league baseball games yesteday was off sharply from last July 4.

A total of 186,014 saw the majors play this year, compared with 254,925 last season.

The bulk of the drop came in the American League where 76,154 fans turned out this time, whereas 135,577 saw last year's July 4 games.

In the National League the total slipped from 119,348 to 109,860.

The biggest crowd was 29,587 in New York where the Mets played Pittsburgh in a doubleheader.

A.L. Pitching In Murky State

BOSTON (AP) — Manager Dick Williams of the Boston Red Sox is sure of only one thing when he leads the American League against the National League in the All-Star Game at Houston Tuesday night.

Williams is certain he will have seven pitchers. What pitching condition they'll be in only time will tell.

"We'll be well represented at Houston," Williams said yesterday after being told of a statement by Denny McLain of the Detroit Tigers.

McLain, the league's only 15-game winner, said Wednesday night that the Detroit pitching rotation calls for him to go Sunday. He said if he pitches then he will be unable to pitch in the All-Star Game.

WANT TO START

"We'll make adjustments, I'm sure, but this is something I think should be handled by Mr. Cronin's office," Williams said.

He referred to AL President Joe Cronin, who was not available for comment.

Williams said that as of the moment Luis Tiant of Cleveland will be the starting pitcher. He added, "However, it all depends on who pitches Sunday, the type of games pitchers are in and how long they go."

Williams had to make his shift in his All-Star staff Thursday when his ace, Jose Santiago, had to leave a game with Oakland in the third inning because of tendonitis in the right elbow.

BELL NAMED

Subject to approval by Cronin, Williams named right-hander Gary Bell, owner of a 6-3 record and a 2.73 earned run average, to replace Santiago, who must rest his ailing arm.

Santiago, bitterly disappointed, said he had "waited for five years" to pitch in the All-Star classic.

"I really wanted to pitch in the All-Star Game," he said. "Then this has to happen. It's a shame. I'm very disappointed."

Bell, who has nursed tendonitis for years, is due to pitch for the Red Sox against Minnesota Saturday. He promises to be ready when needed in the All-Star Game.

Penn Crew Captures Regatta

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Penn's varsity crew surged to an early lead and never was headed in winning the annual Independence Day Regatta on the Schuylkill River yesterday.

The red and blue crew turned back several challenges over the 2,000-meter course before winning in the stunning time of 5:41.5. St. Catharine Boat Club of Ontario, Canada, was second and Vesper Boat Club of Philadelphia was third in a hectic race.

Penn's final margin was just about a boat length over the Canadian crew.

St. Catharine's whipped Vesper by about three-quarters of a boat length, although it was away to a poor start and had to stage a sudden streak at the halfway mark to overtake the Philadelphians.

The Canadians were timed in 5:45.1 and Vesper in 5:48.5.

Harvard took the varsity four with coxswain race in a time of 6:27.0, with M.I.T. second and College Boat Club third.

Tony Johnson and Larry Hough of the Potomac Boat Club ran away with the pair oars with and without coxswain.

Today is Friday, July 5, the 187th day of 1968 with 179 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase. The morning stars are Saturn and Mercury. The evening star is Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1865 William Booth founded the Salvation Army in London.

In 1935 President Roosevelt signed the Wagner-Connery bill which was officially known as the National Labor Relations Act. It guaranteed labor's right to collective bargaining.

In 1945 Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced that the entire Philippines had been liberated.

In 1965 French President de Gaulle's government boycotted the European Common Market, creating a danger to Europe's ever-increasing prosperity through trade.

A thought for the day: Mark Twain said, "To promise not to do a thing is the surest way in the world to make a body want to go and do that very thing."

TIME AND TIDE

The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. HOW TO PLAY

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

The Declarer's Goal Cannot Be Anything But Absolute Certainty

When a player makes a fine play for his contract you don't want to carp at him for failing to find a better play. Still, you arent completely out of order if you point out that a 100 per cent chance is better than a 90 per cent chance.

FORCES ACE

South tried dummy's jack of diamonds at the first trick, but East covered with the queen and South had to take the ace. Declarer drew three rounds of trumps, cashed the ace of spades and got to dummy with a trump to return a spade.

The spade finesse lost, and West returned a diamond to dummy's king. South then ruffed a diamond, cashed the king of spades and counted West's hand.

West had already played three spades, three trumps and four diamonds (he had discarded a diamond on the fourth trump). West could hold only three clubs at most, which meant that East had started with at least four clubs.

CALCULATES ODDS

Since the odds were at least 4 to 3 that East had the queen of clubs, South led a club to the king and returned a club for a finesse. Down one.

South complained bitterly about his bad luck since the diamond and spade queens had been unfavorably placed and then the queen of clubs was in the short club hand. He got no sympathy from anybody, and might have reflected that a man who has no luck with queens looks like a fool. And if he talks about it, he also sounds like a fool.

After taking the ace of diamonds and three rounds of trumps South should cash the king of diamonds, ruff a diamond and then lead out the ace, king and jack of spades.

The opponent who wins the queen of spades will be unable to make a safe return. A club return gives declarer a free finesse. Any other return allows dummy to ruff while South discards his losing club.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with two hearts (forcing to game), and the next player passes.

You hold:
♠ 10 8 7 4
♥ 2
♦ Q 10 9 4
♣ 9 8 3 2

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid 2 no trump, the negative response.

This is a pretty hopeless hand unless partner can next bid a different suit. Still, partner has asked you to keep the bidding open, and you should honor his request.

INVESTING

High Yield On Utility Preferreds

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I have considerable stock, but because I am to retire shortly I have been switching to income issues. One company I would like to know about is Allegheny & Western. Is this good for income? — H.S.

A. Yes the $6 annual dividend is guaranteed under a contract in perpetuity, originally drawn up in 1899. Allegheny leases 68.5 miles of connecting track to Baltimore & Ohio, which is in turn 90 per cent owned by Chesapeake & Ohio. A merger is pending between the latter rail and Norfolk & Western.

Because Allegheny's capitalization with shares are infrequent, and the spread between bid and ask prices is wide. Unless shares can be bought at a price yielding over 6 per cent, I would not recommend purchase.

Recently threre have been signs that market interest may be swinging back to the utilities. For that reason I feel that you would be well advised to consider any of the preferred issues of Philadelphia Electric. Each of the four classes yields 6 per cent or slightly better and is a high-grade holding.

Q. Enclosed is a list of our 9-year-old daughter's holdings. With the $300 we have now, should we continue to diversify or concentrate on a single issue? — S.H.

A. Although you daughter has 10 separate holdings, four are in health care and four are in utilities and related fields. Thus, although you have a large number of companies to follow, you have not achieved the diversity she needs. In order to minimize her risk in these two principal areas, I would suggest sale of American Cyanamid and Consolidated Edison.

With available funds you could add to any one of her other holdings and/or spread out into another industry. At this time, I feel that the defensive characteristics of the food packagers make them attractive. In particular, I like Kellogg Co. with an annual record of earnings improvement stretching back 16 years.
